HS2 ROUTE STILL OPEN TO CHANGE

by Rob Golledge

CAMPAIGNERS fighting HS2 have played down suggestions from the Transport Secretary that its route through Staffordshire could change.

Patrick McLoughlin said this week that he could not 'rule out' the devastating path changing from its current preferred operation.

But leading campaigner Trevor Forrester said he did not think that offered residents a reprieve.

He said: "HS2 have been saying the route isn't confirmed all along and that is actually one of the things that has created us problems because they won't pay out compensation.

"To our mind the route is a done deal and while the minister is correct in saying it has not been confirmed, we think the likelihood of the route drastically changing is zero.

Financial

"We oppose the principle of HS2 – not because it runs through the area where we live but because it does not make financial sense and the country cannot afford it."

HS2's preferred phase two route will cut a 45-mile swathe through Staffordshire. But Mr McLoughlin said the final route was not confirmed and that residents and authorities could still raise concerns on the £50bn plans.

Asked if the route through Staffordshire could change, he replied: "I cannot rule out anything.

"It is a process that is ongoing and ends on January 31 and a report comes to me as a result of that and I make a decision."

Mr McLoughlin said the contentious scheme would benefit the whole country and, in particular, the West Midlands. He said: "I want to make sure that Cannock and Wolverhampton, areas that I know and grew up in, can benefit. We are desperately short of railways."

Mr McLoughlin on Tuesday

The minister and former Cannock miner and councillor gave a keynote speech to more than 800 business leaders at a conference in Birmingham on Tuesday.

Business leaders predicted the scheme will create jobs and bring billions of pounds to the Midlands in the scramble for lucrative contracts.

Andrew Laver, of timber merchants Arnold Laver, said if his company won multi-million pound contracts for HS2 it would create jobs and revitalise manufacturing.

Alan Maggs, of digital engineering firm Assystems said HS2 would be an 'inspirational' project to get young people into engineering.

Gifts boxed up for the needy

From left, Michael Cardy of International Aid Trust, church member Sophie Worgan, aged 10, and appeal organiser Sheila Bott with the shoeboxes that have been collected at St Anne's Church in Chasetown

A WALL of shoeboxes was created after kind-hearted residents collected items to give to the less fortunate at Christmas.

St Anne's Church in Chasetown organised a shoebox appeal in support of the International Aid Trust.

The trust has branches in Heath Hayes and Hednesford as well as in Pelsall and a range of goodies have been packed into the boxes to send to deprived areas of Eastern Europe and Africa.

Young and old have combined to put together the packages and more are expected. Items include jumpers, woolly hats, toys, sweets, toothbrushes and other goods.

A service was held at the church in Church Street at the weekend with people around Chasetown and Burntwood having offered their support.

Donated

Schools including Chasetown Community, Springhill Primary, St Joseph's Nursery, Ridgeway Primary and Erasmus Darwin Academy have all helped the project.

With members of the congregation and other churches such as St John's in Burntwood, St Joseph's have given their help. St Anne's has been doing the shoebox collection for a number of years and the amount donated could be the largest yet once all in.

It has been organised through children and family minister Mark Leeson along with Sheila Bott.

Mr Leeson said: "As a church we have had in excess of 500 boxes, that is about the same as last year but we have got more to come in.

"As a church we feel very blessed we are able to do it and we are very proud of what people have been doing.

"It is important to give some joy at Christmas."

Mess left behind as travellers on move

TRAVELLERS who set up camp in more than 30 caravans near Cheslyn Hay have moved on overnight after being served an order by police. However, they have left piles of rubbish behind.

It comes after a group of travellers left a school car park after causing chaos for parents.

The caravans had pitched up on fields in Middle Hill last week but were ordered to leave by police on Tuesday. Residents said they were seen packing up at about 8pm. A pile of about eight bin bags was left by the entrance to the field.

Order

Travellers who had camped on a car park at Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High School left on Monday night after they were served with an order.

Residents said that the travellers had caused no trouble, but Tim Wright said: "We are glad they've gone. They always seem to leave a mess and that's why people don't like them being around."

Staffordshire County Councillor Mike Lawrence said: "The presence of the travellers on the coach park was causing unacceptable inconvenience to families and disruption to local traffic."

Store plans later hours

A SUPERMARKET in Cannock has applied to be open 24-hours.

Asda bosses have lodged a bid with Cannock Chase Council to extend its hours at the Lichfield Road store.

Neighbours have objected on the grounds of increased noise increase in the early hours.

Under the plans, the supermarket would be open continuously from midnight on Monday until 10pm on Saturday and until 5pm, an extra hour, on Sundays.

Roadwork scheme is hailed as a positive

A £500,000 transformation of a major town centre road has been branded as a 'good thing' despite a public uproar.

Rugeley Town Council leader John Rowley admitted the works to Horse Fair and Wharf Road scheme had happened quickly but that it would be a positive for the town.

He also urged residents and traders to respond to Staffordshire County Council's consultation which ends today (Thursday).

He said: "I appreciate this has all happened very quickly but to make sure Rugeley got this investment things had to be done before the end of the financial year.

Rushed

"I agree that £500,000 would do wonders for the town centre but this money is ring-fenced for the roads.

"Quite simply it would be a case of use it or lose it."

Traders have voiced concerns with estate agent Angi Cooney, vice-president of the Rugeley Traders Association, claimed the plans had been 'rushed through.' But Councillor Rowley said: "This scheme has many positives".

The county council says the aim of the scheme is to support the economic regeneration of the town centre and encourage more people to use the rail station by improving the access.

Crime chief visits town

POLICE and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis will be in Cannock to listen to residents' views next week.

'Let's Talk – Coming To You' will be at The Premier Suite in High Green, from 6-7pm on Tuesday, November 12. Earlier the same day, from 1-2pm, Mr Ellis hosts a supermarket surgery at Morrisons in Mill Street.

He said: "This is a great opportunity to shape the future of policing and the criminal justice services."

Guiding the way for Himalayan trek

THREE Great Wyrley Guide leaders return this weekend from a fundraising trek through the Himalayas.

Lisa Treagust, aged 41, Lucy Haytree, 27 and 29-year-old Karen Andrew have spent the last 12 months raising cash for the Girlguiding Centenary fund and have managed to raise £9,000.

The money will enable Girlguiding members to take part in activities and events which they would not normally have the chance to do. Fundraising events have included barn dances, discos, skittles nights, activity days and sponsored swims. The trio have also been training for the Nepalese trek by participating in walks over Cannock Chase, sponsored walks in the Peak District and the Stafford half marathon. They have also ventured to various Shropshire Hills and mountains in Wales to prepare for the trek through the Annapurna region of the Himalayas.

They travelled to Nepal last Thursday, October 31, began their trek on November 3 and are expected to return this Sunday.

All money raised will be donated to the Girlguiding UK Centenary fund.

Ex-head of nursing is guilty of misconduct

THE former head of nursing at Stafford Hospital has been found guilty of leaving patients in danger during her eight-year spell in charge.

Janice Harry, aged 60, failed to ensure there were adequate staff in the A&E department, and ignored warnings that patients were at risk, a tribunal has heard.

Nurse Janice Harry

Mrs Harry was also criticised for not ensuring that her colleagues provided patient dignity and privacy in the Emergency Admission Unit (EAU) between 2004 and 2006. She also failed to ensure there was appropriate food and drink in the unit.

She will be reprimanded for using inappropriate language towards a colleague. Mrs Harry also asked whether patients were 'going to heaven soon' to see if a bed was coming free, the Nursing and Midwifery Council heard.

Decline

The misconduct panel in London found Mrs Harry guilty of a catalogue of poor management and exposing patients to 'risk' and 'danger' between 1998 and 2006. William Davis, for the NMC, said Mrs Harry presided over an 'unacceptable decline in the standards of nursing care offered'.

She denied all the charges, claiming her role was to give professional advice rather than to manage.

Mrs Harry was found guilty of putting patients at risk with inadequate nursing levels and standards, poor record keeping, and failing to maintain and provide proper levels of nutrition and fluid.

She was cleared of charges relating to cleanliness and hygiene, inappropriate handling of incident forms, telling staff off, reducing a colleague to tears and disregarding staff concerns.

The panel will now decide what sanctions to impose.

Plea over speeds on Chase line

AN MP has launched a bid to limit the speed of trains travelling through villages when the £30 million electrification of the Chase railway line is completed.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson is campaigning for a limit to the speed at which trains will be able to travel through Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay.

He has written to Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin to request that trains travelling through these areas will not exceed 45mph. He has also asked for environmental mitigation measures to be put in place.

Mr Williamson said: "I will continue to urge the Secretary of State for Transport to confirm that measures are being taken to keep the trains travelling at acceptable speeds."

Gearing up for charity cycle

The group of eight friends saddling up to raise money for Children In Need

EIGHT bike riders are to endure a 24-hour trek of trails through thick woodland to raise money for charity.

Dave Bevis, Stephen Harding, Richard Evans, Timothy Lowe, David Brown, Neal O'Donnell, Darren Colligan and Richard McGirk will tackle Cannock Chase in aid of Children in Need.

The team, who all live in Staffordshire, will go out in pairs for one-hour stints from 4pm on November 14. They and hope to raise £2,000 through the 8four24 challenge.

Mechanic Mr Bevis, 42, took up mountain biking after giving up smoking. He said: "It will be hard work but fun and it will be great to raise a decent amount for charity.

Support for cap on pension charges

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has welcomed Government plans to impose a cap on pension charges as part of a crackdown on 'rip off' fees which can shrink the size of someone's retirement pot.

A consultation proposes to ban providers from setting their charge for managing a pension pot above 0.75 per cent a year.

This comes amid fears that savers are at risk of being placed in poor value schemes.

It forms part of the Government's attempt to encourage workers to start putting money towards their retirement funds.

Mr Aidan Burley said: "This is great news for hard-working people in Cannock Chase who are doing the right thing and saving for retirement.

"It will help ensure they get the value for money from their pension that they deserve."

Old friend to make return

THE Friends of the Museum of Cannock Chase welcome back Jim Wall to its next meeting. He will talk about many of the finds that he has made while using his metal detector.

During his talk entitled "The Past Beneath Your Feet" he will pass round those objects for everyone to examine. He will also give an invaluable guide on how to get started on the hobby.

The meeting takes place at the museum, in Valley Road, Hednesford, on Wednesday, November 13 at 7.30pm. Coffee and tea with biscuits will be served after the talk.

Admission is free and all are welcome.

Consultation on post office move

CONSULTATION is being held today (Thursday) over plans to move Cannock post office into WHSmith.

The Church Street branch could close and be relocated in the Market Place store.

A drop-in session from 4.30-6.30pm will be followed by a formal presentation and question and answers from 7pm.

Award-winning film centres on child slavery

AN award-winning, Oscar-nominated short film is being screened in Cannock this weekend. It highlights the plight of thousands of children in India caught up in modern day slavery as bonded labourers.

The film 'Kavi' won US director and producer Gregg Helvey a Student Academy Award in 2009 and a nomination for an Academy Award the following year.

This is the first time that public screenings have been arranged in the UK. Stafford-based human rights charity Dalit Freedom Network UK, who campaign to end the human trafficking and slavery of India's Dalits (Untouchables), is showing the film at the Electric Palace Picture House in Walsall Road at 8pm on Sunday, November 10, as part of India's Lost Childhood. Special guest Kumar Swamy, South India Human Rights Convenor, will be interviewed and there will also be an audience question and answer session.

Kavi is the story of a young boy in India who wants to go to school and to play cricket with other children. Instead he is forced to work in a brick kiln as a modern day slave. Director Helvey said: "I was shocked to learn that 27 million people around the world are enslaved today."

"Kavi's story may be fiction, but sadly it reflects the reality for hundreds of thousands if not millions of children in India who are forced to work as modern day slaves in brick kilns, textile factories, quarries, cotton fields, and so on, and even in people's homes as domestic servants," said Kumar Swamy.

"So many of these children, possibly nine out of ten, are Dalits – Untouchables. The world needs to know about how these children are being exploited and abused."

Free tickets can be obtained in advance from Dalit Freedom Network on 01785 785068, by emailing kavi@dfn.org.uk, or in person from the cinema.

Mercian regiment soldier is killed in suicide bomb blast

A SOLDIER with the former Staffordshire regiment was killed in an attack by a suicide bomber in Afghanistan, the Ministry of Defence has confirmed.

The serviceman, from the 3rd Battalion Mercian regiment, formerly the Staffords, was killed 'as a result of an explosion during a vehicle-borne suicide attack' while with his unit on Tuesday.

by Tim Walters

The battalion is on its last tour of duty in the country. The soldier's next of kin have been informed.

He was taking part in a patrol in the Kamparak area, 25 miles north east of Lashkar Gah in Helmand Province.

The death takes the number of UK service members who have lost their lives since operations in Afghanistan began in October 2001 to 446 and is the eighth this year.

Served

Lieutenant Colonel Hywel Lewis, spokesman for Task Force Helmand, said: "A hugely experienced soldier has tragically died while serving with his comrades in Afghanistan.

"He commanded great respect throughout his regiment.

"Those who served alongside him were privileged to operate with a highly professional soldier who led by example. Our prayers and thoughts are with his family."

More than 300 troops from the battalion are currently operating in Helmand Province.

'A' Company arrived at their base in Lashkar Durrai in late summer. They were joined in early autumn by comrades from 'C' company who are quartered near the logistically important town of Gereshkh.

Both companies are supporting the Afghan National Army at two of the four remaining patrol bases outside Camp Bastion where British troops are still stationed.

The Battalion are currently on an eight-month deployment but it is likely that some of the soldiers will return home early as part of the planned withdrawal of British combat troops from the region next year.

They will merge with the 1st and 2nd Battalions of The Mercian Regiment after its return from Afghanistan as part of the current reorganisation which the British Army is undergoing.

Paul Branson from Huntington who has been chosen for the top 50 entrepreneurs in a worldwide competition for his website design

Paul's web of delight

AN entrepreneur named Branson has been recognised in a worldwide competition for his innovative website.

Paul Branson from Huntington has spent years developing the concept to allow businesses to post videos. It is similar to Youtube.

Paul entered the Startup Open competition which is open to 100-plus countries.

Judges included Bill Clinton, Barack Obama and Virgin boss Richard Branson.

The site at www.infoguru shop.com was recognised in the world's top 50 and the plan is now to develop the model further.

Mr Branson, a 50-year-old father-of-one, has a degree in business and a corporate background.

A trial involving up to seven businesses was carried out and Paul is now looking to secure further funding to progress the project. It is hoped TV channels could use the website along with budding artists or professional people.

He said: "To be recognised in the top 50 in the world is absolutely incredible."

He added it could operate like a combination of Youtube, Amazon and Yellow Pages.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

I REFERRED recently to the anonymous blogger Enlightenment who, secure in his secrecy, had a right old rant at me. Mr Enlightenment has now set up a Twitter page where, inexplicably, he uses his full name. Hi, Phil!

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

IT'S November and we are still picking fruit from the fig tree in our garden and have only just re-lit the solid-fuel boiler for the first time since April. If this is global warming, bring it on.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

IT IS already passing into legend that the Met Office was dazzlingly successful in predicting Monday's storm. The millions of folk living in central England will disagree. The forecasters repeatedly predicted that the storm would "sweep through the Midlands." It did not. Yet even after the storm had passed, the BBC was still reporting that it had "swept through the Midlands." The BBC version is now on the internet for all eternity. So when your grandchildren ask you about the Great Storm of 2013and you tell them it missed us by miles, they'll nod sadly and say: "Poor granddad. He's losing it."

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

BUT then the BBC is hardly in touch with the nation. Last week Auntie Beeb got a ticking-off for relegating the Royal christening to the final item in some bulletins. Even stranger was the lead story on the Radio 4 lunchtime news a few days ago. According to Auntie the biggest news story of the day was the death at 89 of the British sculptor Sir Anthony Caro. The people's broadcaster, eh?

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

WHAT do you dread most about the enforced companionship on trains? Is it crying babies, mobile-phone shouters, football fans or drunks? Prepare for a new horror. First Great Western has agreed to Hewlett Packard putting "brand ambassadors" on its trains to demonstrate their latest tablet computers to passengers. If a smiley-faced person with a tablet enters your carriage, I can only advise you to put on a football scarf, surround yourself with empty lager cans and start shouting into your mobile.

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

FOLLOWING my item on smart meters a lady tells me she had one installed, along with a new "state-of-the-art" (i.e. rubbish) boiler. She's not sure which she hates the most, the boiler or the meter. She says: "I've only plugged the smart meter in twice. I don't need a soppy little screen to tell me how to save money and look after the planet. What was wrong with the old meter, with numbers I could read and understand?"

❐❐❐❐❐❐❐

ANOTHER pointless leap forward for technology appears in a Christmas gift catalogue. It's an electronic key tag and fob designed for people who keep losing their keys. Simply fasten the tag to your keyring. If you lose the keys just press the electronic fob and it triggers an alarm on the tag. Brilliant – until you lose the fob.

MEMBERS of a works syndicate in Bedford thought they had won £159,709 each on the National Lottery. Instead, owing to a miscalculation by Camelot, the jackpot worked out at £124,621 each. One member declares: "It has taken away the whole excitement of winning." Yeah. Getting £124,621 must be a real bummer.

FOUR hundred years after it was written, Shakespeare's gore-fest Titus Andronicus, with its storyline of mutilation and cannibalism, still has the power to turn the stomach. The current Royal Shakespeare Company production claimed a couple of victims in a single performance a few days ago. One member of the audience fainted, another projectile-vomited in the stairwell. What a great play.

Project to clean up subway completed

COUNCILLORS and partner bodies gathered to mark the completion of a clean-up project at a major town centre gateway.

Cannock Chase District Council and the Community Wellbeing Arts arm of Wigan leisure & Culture Trust officially marked the end of work at the Beecroft Road underpass.

Over the last few months the tired and dated subway has been transformed into a welcoming entrance for town centre visitors and shoppers. The final art piece showcases iconic buildings and landmarks within Cannock Town Centre and the surrounding areas.

This was put together with the help of the local community, designed by the council and transferred to tiles using new technology from Tiled Space. Mark Wood, from Tiled Space, said "We are pleased to have been involved in this project, which showcases how art can be created into large community projects."

Representatives from the local community, Cannock Chase Council, WLCT, Staffordshire County Council and Tiled Space were invited to the council offices to watch a video showcasing the project and the process that took place, going right back to the consultation process in May, where local people chose the 'natural and fresh' theme of green and earthy colours.

Not only have the tiles been replaced, but the underpass was also given a deep clean, repainted and improvements to the lighting and flooring were carried out.

Councillor Diane Todd, Town Centre regeneration leader said "I am delighted to see the finished result."

Doctor in the house as bespoke Tardis pops up

AN icon of the sci-fi world, famed for transporting the 'Doctor' back and forth in time, has popped up on Cannock Chase.

The distinctive blue-panelled Tardis has been spotted out and about after craftsman Alastair Vincent quit his job as a financial adviser and started a business making replicas of the sci-fi icon.

The first one took him three months to design and build, but now he produces around one a week, with a price tag of £799.

The box will be transported to the site's main visitor centre in Marquis Drive, Hednesford, in the run up to Christmas.

Father-of-one Mr Vincent, who trades as Muddy Paw Creations, said: "The rangers at the Chase love the box. So it'll will soon be a feature outside the main visitors centre.

"When they start selling Christmas trees from the end of November, the police box will land."

He said visitors would be wowed by the light at the top which will flash red, green, yellow and blue. And there are lights inside as well.

Connection

He added: "They are a bit of fun and I think that they are likely to be used as a shed or maybe a wardrobe.

"I used to hide behind the sofa at the Daleks and can't say I am a fan of the programme but I am sure a lot of Dr Who fans will see the police box and make a connection to the programme."

The 45-year-old, from Hednesford, started making bespoke playhouses and police boxes after taking voluntary redundancy from his job as a financial adviser in November last year.

After spending more than 25 years behind a desk, Mr Vincent said he knew it was time for a change.

Despite never showing any signs of being creative, he shocked his family and friends when he decided to start up his own business.

Mr Vincent said: "I was inspired to start building the famous blue police box after I'd been to Llandudno in Wales and seen a one at the end of the pier. I thought it looked pretty cool. The first police box took me three months to do. Now its only takes me a week to do one.

"My partner really likes them and thinks they are great and I hope there will be a warm reception to them."

Word has already started to spread about Mr Vincent's boxes and orders for the bespoke creations have started flooding in.

He continued: "I have one former colleague who has ordered one for her husband. He plans to have a beer fridge in it and have it in the garden.

"It is a fun item and brings a bit of a smile."

He said: "I'd spent 28 years working in an office, being uncreative. I had never been creative in my life.

"I'd never done woodwork before but I thought I'd give it a go. I worked off diagrams and looked stuff up on the internet."

The first project he embarked on was making a Wendy house for his young niece for her birthday.

He said he looked online and he felt the quality of Wendy houses were 'poor'.

Earlier this year he took on a unit at Cannock Chase Enterprise Centre in Hednesford and he builds his playhouses and police boxes from there.

He sources his wood from businesses in the area.

Mr Vincent, hopes his unique business will now start to take off.

His timber playhouses aimed at children come in blue and pink.

Service on the Chase to honour dog Freda

AN annual ceremony to celebrate working dogs takes place place on Cannock Chase tomorrow (Friday).

Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty is inviting working dogs and their owners to the 2.30pm service.

Now in its fourth year, it was inspired by Freda, the New Zealand Rifles' mascot, when the regiment was stationed on Cannock Chase during the First World War. She died in 1918, while the regiment was training on Cannock Chase, and is buried there.

In memory of Freda, and dogs like her, the AONB is holding the ceremony at her grave, off Chase Road, near Brocton.

Last year, 34 people and 14 dogs gathered at Freda's grave to take part in the ceremony. This year's special event will include listening to readings and poems, and laying wreaths on the grave.

AONB officer Ruth Hytch said: "This is always a popular and moving ceremony. The efforts of our working dogs are sometimes forgotten, and so this is a chance to remember them and to thank them for their loyalty and service."

Ice busters called upon

A BURNTWOOD councillor is calling on community-minded residents to look out for their neighbours as the cold weather approaches.

Councillor Sue Woodward is enlisting the help of volunteer Ice Busters across the town. With training and equipment, they can help elderly and infirm neighbours when snow arrives.

She said: "The Highways team cannot get to every road. We want community-spirited people to get trained up in advance to help clear footpaths during bad weather."

Call 01543 304711 or e-mail susan.woodward@staffordshire.gov.uk to volunteer.

Library fun day marks area's link to Tolkien

A DAY celebrating the life of The Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit author JRR Tolkien is being held at Penkridge Library next weekend.

The venue, in Bell Brook, has a hoard of Middle Earth paraphernalia on show – including a letter from film director Peter Jackson – which commemorates Tolkien's links to the area.

During the Great War, Tolkien served as an officer in the Lancashire Fusiliers and was stationed on Cannock Chase.

Armour

In 1918 Tolkien was posted back to Staffordshire, and with his wife and son moved briefly to the Teddesley Park Estate in Penkridge, which later featured as Fladweth Amrod or Nomad's Green in his writings for "The Silmarillion".

The free Hobbit fun day takes place from 10am to 4pm on Saturday, November 16. Visitors can meet a Knight of Gondor, learn all about his weapons and armour and what it's like to do battle with a troll.

There will also be a warhammer fantasy gaming workshop and the chance to paint and take away a Middle Earth model and to meet Simon Black, a model maker and painter for Games Workshop's 'White Dwarf' magazine.

£220m deal for nursery

THE largest UK nursery chain, which is based in Burntwood, has been sold in a deal with around £220 million.

Busy Bees has been sold to a Canadian pension fund in a deal worth about £220m.

Ontario Teachers Pension Plan has bought the firm, which operates 213 nurseries in the country and employs more than 3,500.

The day care provider was founded in 1983. Its turnover in 2012 was £110.6m.

Group meeting

GRAHAM Evans of Chasewater Wildlife Society will address the next meeting of Norton Canes Historical Society & Family History Group. The meeting is on Tuesday, November 12 at the village library in Burntwood Road, from 7-9pm. Admission is free and tea, coffee and light refreshments will be served.

Macabre murder turned into play by drama group

A GRISLY murder that shocked the nation in the aftermath of the First World War has been turned into a play.

Gaskin – Behind the Yellow Doors tells the story of collier and soldier Henry Gaskin, who in 1919 was hanged for the brutal murder of his wife Elizabeth in an area now locally known as Gaskin's Wood, Hednesford.

The play, written by Peter Sidgwick of the Tower Players drama group in Hednesford, traces Gaskin's return from war as a tunneller in the trenches and how post-traumatic stress disorder may have driven him to butcher his adulterous wife in the woodland. It follows the themes of love and betrayal but also addresses the horrors of trench warfare on the Western Front.

Gaskin endured the horror of being buried alive and this is thought to have contributed to his disturbed state of mind at the time of the murder.

Henry Gaskin was hanged at Winson Green on August 8, 1919 despite some 6,000 people signing a petition asking for clemency.

The play features audience participation in the shape of a debate about capital punishment. Mr Sidgwick, aged 65, said: "This is a famous murder in this area but it also made national headlines. Younger people may not know about it as part of Hednesford's colourful history.

"It is macabre but I have tried to insert bits of humour here and there."

The play will first be performed at Rose Theatre, Rugeley, on Friday, November 15, and Saturday, November 16. It is hoped another performance will take place at the Museum of Cannock Chase in February next year.

Tickets cost £7 but the play is not suitable for under 16s.

Licence threat to popular pub over under-age sales

A POPULAR pub is under threat of losing its licence after serving 15-year-olds with vodka alcopops.

Police have asked for a review of licensing conditions at the Hen House, in Hednesford. Locals have launched a campaign to support the pub, in Eskrett Street.

The publican has been ordered to appear before licensing bosses next week after staff were caught selling alcohol to under-age drinkers for the second time in two years.

Regulars have rallied round manager Sharon Hughes, writing letters and handing a 60-strong petition to Cannock Chase Council which is to make a decision about the licence on Monday.

In December 2011, staff at the Punch Tavern premises sold alcohol to a 15-year-old girl as part of a trading standards sting.

Notice

In the latest incident in August, two girls aged 15 and 16 were sent in as part of another compliance test operation and were served WKD vodka alcopops.

The exchange was filmed by trading standards officers. In 2011 an £80 fixed penalty notice was issued but this time Punch Taverns and Mrs Hughes are being given final warnings and asked to accept additional conditions to the licence.

Sgt Tracey Carsley, for Staffordshire Police, said the force 'took the selling of alcohol to under-age children very seriously.'

Any further appearance at a review hearing would mean the licence being revoked.

In support of the pub, retired prison governor Alan Hodson said: "I have never seen any occurrence of under-age drinking."

Councillors' cash helps cricket club

A CRICKET club left stumped by the theft of its roller has been given a helping hand by local councillors.

The roller, belonging to Hammerwich Cricket Club, was stolen in May, at the start of the 2013 season.

A replacement roller fund has been supported by Staffordshire County Councillors making contributions from their community funds. Councillor David Smith donated £250, while Jeffrey Sheriff gave £1,000.

Club spokesman Ron Box said: "The club's insurance was declared null and void as the roller, due to its size, could not be housed.

"A new roller has to be obtained for next year, the cost being in excess of £12,000 – a tough challenge for the club so this kind of support is so appreciated."

Councillor Sheriff said: "I was very pleased to be able to help Hammerwich Cricket Club, which has several successful junior, as well as senior teams."

Councillor Smith said: "I am happy to contribute from my Staffordshire County Council Community fund to assist Hammerwich Cricket Club."

HGV picks up bridegroom for wedding

James and Hayley Bray who got married on Saturday. James arrived for the church service in an HGV

THE family of HGV tyre fitter James Bray decided the only way for him to arrive at the church on time for his wedding was by an articulated lorry.

The 25-year-old shunned vintage cars and posh limousines to arrive in style at his wedding to Hayley Carr, also 25.

Mr Bray's parents Ivan and Michelle and his sister Kayleigh had organised the lorry, complete with purple and white ribbons on the front.

He knew nothing about it until it arrived as he was preparing to leave for St Chad's Church, in Cannock Road, Chadsmoor. Mr Bray, a HGV tyre fitter at Chase Tyres in Norton Canes, said: "It's great, I wouldn't want to arrive any other way.

"We certainly got a lot of attention on the way to church because it's not something you see every day."

Meanwhile, bride Hayley, who is eight months pregnant, arrived for Saturday's ceremony in a sleek black Bentley – but said the lorry made it a special day to remember.

She said: "It was brilliant. We really enjoyed the day and everyone had a great time. Because I'm pregnant I couldn't get in the HGV but I could still have some pictures taken with it."

After the pair tied the knot they then travelled – in the Bentley – to celebrate with friends and family at Bridgtown Social Club.

The couple met two years ago on a night out in Wolverhampton.

The couple said they will book a honeymoon next year after the birth of their daughter.

Anyone interested in joining is welcome along to one of the Wednesday morning sessions.

Brownies raise cash for cancer

A BROWNIE group has raised £300 towards the Teenage Cancer Trust.

The 2nd Burntwood Brownies held a sponsored silence after being inspired by 18-year-old cancer patient Stephen Sutton.

When he was diagnosed with incurable cancer he set himself a target of raising £150,000 for the charity, as well as compiling a wish list of things he wanted to do, including having a portrait of himself drawn.

The Brownies held a meeting in silence and drew pictures of Stephen. They then invited him back to give him a cheque for the sum raised.

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

PITY the poor residents of Milton Keynes. Not only do they have to endure some of Britain's most unappealing architecture but the town is now going to be the testbed for an interesting new experiment in transportation.

The £65m scheme, remember that when they say there is no money to open your old railway line, will see self-driving electric cars whizzing around the town at speeds of up to 12mph.

Better than that, their navigation will be controlled by a smartphone app as they run along the pavements. So pedestrians in a busy town centre will in future have to share the footpath with driverless electric cars controlled entirely by mobile phone signals. What could possibly go wrong?

CASHING in on the success of the hit BBC2 period gang drama, enterprising members of the Digbeth Residents Association have started organising Peaky Blinders tours.

No matter that the show was filmed predominantly in Leeds, Liverpool and Dudley. Or that it was set not in Digbeth, but Small Heath. Visitors from as far afield as London, Suffolk and Scotland have been queuing up to spend an hour seeing sights such as the old Typhoo factory, and hear colourful tales about pitched gang battles, turf wars, or folk smoking at Digbeth coach station. Actually, I might have made one of those up, but you get the drift. Still if Digbeth can be turned into a tourist magnet, there's hope for us all.

YET what is really sad, as the Black Country celebrates bonfire night, is that so many people seem to be unaware of the central role this area played in the Gunpowder Plot.

Holbeche House in Wall Heath, just outside Dudley, was the home of Stephen Lyttelton, one of the conspirators. It was there, after the plot had failed, that the fugitives took refuge. It was at Holbeche House where some of the plotters blew themselves to bits while drying their gunpowder by the fire. As you do.

And it was at Holbeche House where the last few stragglers were rounded up. You might now be thinking 'Really? When can we visit this place?'. Well, sadly, you can't.

Holbeche House is now a nursing home. A very good nursing home, no doubt, and no reasonable person would decry the important work such institutions perform. But if Holbeche House had been in London, would it have ever been converted for such use?

Did it never cross anybody's mind that it should have been turned into a museum? So while coachloads of tourists flock to see the back streets of inner city Birmingham on the basis of a spurious link to a BBC2 drama series, one of the most significant sites of British history is all but forgotten.

Hitting heights for charity after turning life around

Cannock woman Michelle Pearson took on a Kilimanjaro trek for charity and takes up the story of one of her group

WHEN homeless teenager Aaron Moreton was 'sofa surfing' around the Black Country to avoid sleeping rough on the streets, little did he imagine he would be scaling one of the world's tallest mountains on the other side of the globe just over a year later.

The 19-year-old, from Wednesbury, has just returned from an epic trek up Mount Kilimanjaro, in East Africa, which has raised thousands of pounds for the charity which has helped turn his life around.

Aaron explains: "I ended up homeless after falling out with my family. I spent about six months moving around, sleeping at various friends' homes. I lost my job as an IT apprentice during that time too, which was a kick in the teeth. I wasn't in a good place in my life at all."

Develop

But, in September 2012, Aaron managed to find accommodation at The Meeting House, a homeless young people's service in Wednesbury, run by Trident Reach the People Charity.

The service offers accommodation and support to vulnerable young people, helping them develop the skills and confidence to move on and live independently.

"Trident Reach helped me finally get my life back on track. I started looking for work and college courses but, although I was offered lots of interviews, I never got offered a job," says Aaron.

"Then, through my support worker, I got the chance of a year-long apprenticeship with Trident Reach. I've been working here as an Apprentice Recruitment Administrator for six months now, helping the charity take on new staff.

"It's going well and I'm enjoying it, so I hope they'll keep me on. I'm hoping to move into my own place soon and, in the long-term, I'd like to go to university to study HR so I can progress in my career.

"Trident Reach has really boosted my confidence, making me realise that I can be a success. I've always wanted to better myself but I didn't think that was going to happen. It hasn't been easy but I'm getting there."

As a thank you to the Oldbury-based charity – and to do his bit to help other vulnerable people in our communities – Aaron joined a group of Trident Reach colleagues for a gruelling eight-day trek up Kilimanjaro in Tanzania. They braved extreme temperatures – ranging from 27C during the day to -20C at night – and the effects of high altitude to scale the 19,330ft summit of the dormant volcano, the tallest free-standing mountain in the world.

Aaron Moreton raised money for Trident reach on his Kilimanjaro trek

Aaron says: "It was incredibly hard – I don't think anything can fully prepare you for that. The worst part was the altitude – at times, you felt like you could hardly breathe.

"The high point was hitting the summit at last and seeing the most beautiful views. Also, we were above the clouds for much of the trek and it was amazing to see how many stars there were in the night sky.

"There was great camaraderie amongst us too – everyone getting on in the camp. We had a lot of laughs and that kept us going through the hardest times."

Chuffed

The expedition, along with other fundraising initiatives over the next few months, is on target to raise a total of £75,000. Funds will pay for three minibuses which will offer a lifeline to vulnerable people, including the elderly and women and children who have fled domestic abuse, so they can enjoy trips out to boost their self-esteem and quality of life.

Aaron says: "I'm chuffed to bits I completed the trek. I had never done anything like that in my life before and never thought I would, but it was an amazing achievement and I'm hoping to do another fundraising challenge in 2015.

"Trident Reach gave me the chance to transform my life, so I want to raise as much money as I can for the charity and give something back so they can help more people like me in the community."

Trident Reach the People Charity provides housing, care and support services to vulnerable people with a range of needs across the Midlands region, including homeless people, those with disabilities or mental health problems, the elderly and people fleeing domestic abuse.

THROUGH THE YEARS

1983...

A SAVE the pinta campaign was launched in the Midlands, with Co-operative societies being urged to write to their MP about the threat from imported UHT milk. The Co-operative Union said if imported milk flooded the shops at initially low prices, it could wipe out the doorstep delivery service.

THIS is what you call a dead-end job – a theatre was looking for an actor to play a corpse. Birmingham's Alexandra Theatre was seeking somebody to play the part of the murder victim in Tom Stoppard's The Real Inspector Hound. The candidate would be expected to lie motionless for 70 minutes, and would be paid £4.68 per performance.

A BONFIRE party at a children's home was cancelled because of a strike. The party at Braybrook House Children's Home in Wednesfield was scrapped because members of the Nalgo Union were involved in a pay dispute.

1993...

WOLVERHAMPTON had been identified as a possible site for a new factory belonging to German car giant Mercedes-Benz. A 200-acre site next to the M54 at Pendeford was on a shortlist of possible sites for the Stuttgart-based engineering company. Mercedes was looking to build a £700 million factory which would build 200,000 small cars a year.

OUTSPOKEN television doctor Vernon Coleman was banned from late-night debating show Central Weekend after a four-letter outburst live on air. Dr Coleman let rip during a debate among medical experts about the anti-depressant Prozac. Initially he branded the drug 'crap' and shouted 'morons' at two guests, but his language became more explicit towards the end of the debate. The shows presenters made an on-air apology but Dr Coleman was unrepentant.

THE owner of a G-registered Austin Maestro spoke of her shock at receiving a speeding ticket accusing her of driving at 480mph.Joanna James, who paid £100 for the car, was allegedly clocked when she drove along a road in Bridgend, south Wales. Husband Kenneth joked: "I am waiting for Nasa to ring up for the diagram of the engine."

IT WAS the end of the cul-de-sac for Liverpool soap opera Brookside, which drew to a close after 21 years. The drama, one of the first programmes to be shown on the new Channel 4 at its launch, welcomed back original cast member Paul Usher as bad-boy Barry Grant, for the final instalment.

Lacey laces up her boots for third walk fundraiser

A CANNOCK teenager is taking on a fundraising walk in aid of a hospice for the third year in a row – and aims beat her previous totals.

Lacey Stevens, aged 14, raised £300 for Katharine House the first year, and £400 the second time round. This year she wants to reach £500.

More than 150 people have already registered for the Winter Walk, which takes place on Milford Common on December 8 from 10am.

Last year more than 600 people took part in the seasonal stroll which sees experienced walkers, families and even their dogs – taking in a fresh and frosty 4.5 mile circuit to help raise funds for the hospice.

Lacey, a pupil at the Kingsmead Technology College, has been praised by organisers for her efforts.

Praised

Lacey was recently honoured with Cannock Chase Council's Youth Endeavour Award and has been praised by fundraising staff at the hospice.

Event fundraiser James Lunney said: "Over the last two years Lacey has taken part in the 'Winter Walk' and has raised over £700, all in her own time.

"As a result Lacey received the Cannock Councils Youth Endeavour Award. Lacey is taking apart again this year and hopes to beat last year's total of over £400

"It's remarkable what Lacey has done for the hospice at such a young age and we are truly grateful for all Lacey's efforts."

Mr Lunney added: "The Winter Walk has become a very popular annual event – giving local people the opportunity to enjoy a leisurely pre-Christmas work-out – whilst helping a vital local charity near Christmas.

"The hospice stays open 24 hours a day over Christmas with the wonderful nurses working around the clock".

Registrations are now being taken for the walk. Prices have been held at £10 per person to take part, including a commemorative badge, soup and a roll. Children walk for free. On the day registrations are £15 for adults and £2 for children.

Katharine House Hospice, in Stafford, provides free care and support for adults and their families across Mid-Staffordshire coping with a progressive illness.

It relies upon the generosity of the local community to help generate 75 per cent of funds needed to run its range of vital services.

The cost of living crisis now gets worse

EVERY week we see more evidence of the cost of living crisis facing families across Britain after three years of this Government's failing policies.

The latest figures reveal the scale of David Cameron's failure. Prices have risen faster than wages in 39 out of 40 months under him, meaning no other Prime Minister has seen so many consecutive months where prices have risen faster than wages.

And it's getting worse. Now British Gas has chosen to raise energy prices three times higher than the rate of inflation.

We need a government that will stand up for hard-working people. Instead we have David Cameron who thinks people are better off – and Downing Street's response to the energy price rises is to suggest that people put on an extra jumper! That says it all.

GEORGE ADAMSON

Desecration of last remaining skylark habitat

THERE is a significant element of hypocrisy in the Crocodile tears that Councillor Adamson is now shedding over the intended development on Pye Green Valley. Just who is his trying to fool?

He is the leader of a Labour group of councillors who quite recently, hand in glove with the Liberal Democrats and Conservative Councillors, passed the planning application to finally desecrate the Valley. Desecration it is, in that the area, designated for development, is possibly the last remaining skylark habitat in the district and has been for time immemorial

We have lost some 80 per cent of these beautiful birds over recent decades. This is however par for the course for Labour councillors in that successive waves of members since 1979 have simply ratified plans for the now seemingly inevitable, development on the Valley while rejecting three major petitions by local residents out of hand ,all of whom objected unanimously against such development What price then local democracy?

One cannot leave out the role of planning officers here either, who represent an insular, self-serving and self-justifying culture, totally insulated against the broader concept of environmental concerns.

It has to be said that equally culpable in this perfidy are those Conservative and Liberal Democrat councillors in their previous coalition that granted development rights to the County Council from which our Cannock Chase District Council will now receive some £3m. It is clearly all about the money!

We are in the hands of philistines or as Sir David Attenborough most recently put it "Man is a plague"

Family's shock over hospital's transport policy

MY father, who is in his 80s, tripped and fell at home and was found by my brother-in-law ashen, in pain, supporting his arm. He had pain and bruising in his side.

My sister called for an ambulance. She was asked if he was bleeding profusely, had breathing difficulties or irregular heartbeat and was his back hotter than normal. She said no.

She was told sorry, my father was not a priority and did not qualify for an emergency ambulance. Non-plussed, my sister rang back. She answered the same questions and was told the same. A paramedic confirmed the decision, this was the laid down procedure. He could arrange transport but there could be a long delay. Best arrange your own transport, she was told.

My sister and brother-in-law manoeuvred my father, as best as they could, into their car and took him to hospital. The ball of the upper arm bone, humerus, was shattered, tendons and ligaments torn, his hip and side badly bruised.

We understand the need to weed out time-wasters and people abusing a precious resource, but to label broken bones, particularly among the aged, as low priority was a shock. We feel people need to be told of the guidelines so they can draw their own conclusions and make their own plans.

So, if you see an old bloke struggling onto a bus, biting on a strap, dragging his limbs in a home-made sling, offer him your seat, he's probably making his way to hospital.

Walkers can lift dogs from an isolated life

CAN the value of more neighbour visiting be realised from recent news I've come across? Age UK describe how increasing numbers of elderly people on their own can feel trapped with nobody to share memories with.

Even half-hour befriending visits can give them some of their life back and also keep them out of illness and NHS costs emerging from chronic loneliness. On top of that are the eat or heat choices focused in winter by them and other low paid people. A local fund could help them avoid this dilemma, something that is organised in some places.

Local dog walkers, paid or not, could also lift dogs out of isolated lives while their owners are out working. An RSPCA former chief vet on Channel 4 showed some dogs alone whimpering or in a panic. Most struggled to cope with separation. Retired and unemployed people may be in the best position to help. An effort and trust in searching for the right person to walk or play with the dogs, or go to dogs' day care, could reduce that toll.

Treated like royalty

I WAS recently a patient on Hilton Main Ward at Cannock Hospital. I underwent bilateral knee replacement and have to say that from admission to discharge I was treated like royalty. The care and treatment I received was second to none. I was shown compassion and treated with the utmost dignity. I would personally like to thank all the medical team and anyone associated with my procedure and wish you all the best for the future.

Priorities change on parking bays

TWO weeks ago I parked in the first parking bay in Victoria Street, Cannock. Upon my return a parking ticket on my car stated I was not displaying a valid permit.

I was informed by a resident that the priorities had recently changed to "parking for permit holders only" and that a traffic warden had already visited and booked other motorists.

There was no indication of any change of priorities as you turned into Victoria Street from Wolverhampton Road, no signage where the bays started to advise anyone, the first indication being a small sign on a post several car lengths along Victoria Street. Has any one had a similar problem and does anyone know the law regarding road signage?

Economic climate blamed as town centre pubs close

The Glassworks pub in Brewery Street, Rugeley that closed down suddenly along with the Courtyard in Cannock

TWENTY four jobs have been lost after two town centre pubs closed suddenly.

The Courtyard in Cannock and the Glass Works in Rugeley both shut after the company that owns them went into administration..

Fourteen staff worked at the Glass Works in Brewery Street and around 10 at the Courtyard in High Green – which celebrated its first anniversary only a week ago.

Both venues are owned by Bramwell Pubs and Bars Limited, which has gone into administration. Signs have gone up in the windows of both bars to let customers know about the closures.

Shocked regulars have taken to social networking sites after hearing the news.

Steph Hammond wrote on the Courtyard's Facebook page: "Such a shame, we will have nothing soon."

Danielle Harry wrote: "Still in shock!" and Michael Hinks wrote: "Hope to see some of the staff working at whatever it opens as next!"

Best

A statement posted on Glass Works' official Facebook page stated: "We would like to take the opportunity to thank every customer that has made the place one of the best places to work over the last seven years. And hope we all see you from behind a different beer pump in the near future."

London-based firm Zolfo Cooper has been appointed as the joint administrator for Bramwell.

Peter Saville, a partner at the firm, said: "We will continue to trade the business while exploring all possible options for its future, including a sale of the business, and would like to thank the staff for their continued support and professionalism during this process."

Administrators were appointed after Bramwell Pubs and Bars Limited experienced cash flow problems.

Bosses blamed the 'challenging economic environment'.

Hero soldier pitches in as football clubs pay respects

Sapper Clive Smith on the Molineux turf to deliver Wolves match ball

A SOLDIER who lost both his legs in a roadside explosion while serving in Afghanistan was guest of honour at Molineux as Wolves fans paid their respects to war heroes.

Sapper Clive Smith, of Hednesford, delivered the match ball for the game against Stevenage on Saturday, to warm applause from all four sides of the ground.

The devoted Wolves fan later urged the crowd of almost 18,000 fans to dig deep for the Poppy Appeal.

Spr Smith suffered his injuries while searching for an Improved Explosive Device and now walks using artificial limbs. He was the face of last year's National Poppy Appeal and said he was honoured to lead the Wolves tribute to the fallen at the club's last home match before Armistice Day.

"I was more than happy to come down when they asked me and even though I've been down here last year it was still special," he said.

Disposal

"I think it is important as a mark of respect so that we can remember especially at this time of year."

A minute's silence was held and impeccably observed before kick off.

Spr Smith is receiving support from the Royal British Legion as he prepares to leave the Army in March.

The former Chase High School student took his first tour of Afghanistan in 2008 and it was on his return that he decided to become a bomb disposal expert.

He returned to duty in the war-torn country in early October 2010 with the 33 Engineer Regiment and it was just a few days later he lost his legs in the bomb blast on October 13.

Spr Smith was helped by the Royal British Legion by spending part of his rehabilitation at the Battle Back Centre in Lilleshall.

Wolves players, led by captain Sam Ricketts, applaud Sapper Smith

Flower club flourishes to mark 75th year milestone

Chadsmoor Chrysanthemum Society in its early days. The club is now celebrating its 75th anniversary

A FLOWER club which started in the 1930s has blossomed to celebrate its 75th anniversary.

Chadsmoor Chrysanthemum Society – one of the oldest in the Midlands – will mark the milestone this weekend with its annual show.

The club was formed when, in 1937, eight miners, together with local vicar Reverend Owen, all with a common interest in gardening and especially chrysanthemums, got together with a view to growing the plants for showing.

They had several meetings during that first year at the Crown pub in Chadsmoor where they discussed the formation of a club and on August 8 Chadsmoor Chrysanthemum Society was born.

The society held its first show in November 1938 at Chadsmoor Church of England School. It was so successful that many more members joined and the club flourished.

Guests

Shows moved to Coniston Hall and to Chadsmoor Methodist Church, in Cannock Road, where it has been the venue for the last few years.

Over the years the society has organised lectures, given by invited guests and has arranged outings to various trade growers.

A special anniversary cake has been commissioned to mark the anniversary and the Diamond Jubilee (75 years) Annual Show takes place on Saturday at the Methodist Church.

The official opening is at 2.30pm. There will be a number of classes with cash prizes for the winners, refreshments and a raffle.

The committee meets at Broomhill Albion Club four times a year. Anyone interested in joining should contact treasurer Alan Jones on 01543 502066 or secretary Alan Dowling on 01543 502809.

Travellers now on move after setting up in village

TRAVELLERS who caused traffic chaos by staying on a school car park have moved on. Itinerants who pitched up just a couple of miles away have also now decamped.

Travellers had initially moved on to Saredon Road in Cheslyn Hay, while up to 30 caravans also set up camp at nearby Middle Hill.

Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High School was forced to shut early on Monday to allow time for extra traffic after four caravans and a number of vans and cars moved on to its coach park.

The school shares a site with Cheslyn Hay Primary and parents dropping children off at school on Monday morning – the first day back after the October half-term – were hit by traffic chaos. They originally pitched up last Wednesday night, October 30 but have since left the site.

Traffic chaos as travellers pitch up on a school car park in Saredon Road

Safety

County councillor Mike Lawrence said police had used powers under the Public Order Act to get the travellers to move on.

He said: “The council built the coach park at quite a considerable expense for the safety of the children, and it was all put at risk for a few caravans. I’m relieved they have gone.”

Meanwhile dozens of caravans that set up a separate camp at a nearby field in Middle Hill have now also moved on.

Residents say that while the travellers have caused no trouble, they did block the road when they first arrived due to the volume of vehicles.

Tim Wright, who lives in Middle Hill, said: “We’ve lived here since 1997 and this is the third time we’ve had travellers.”

Itinerants also set up camp in Middle Hill, just a couple of miles away

HS2 right for future of UK – McLoughlin

TRANSPORT secretary Patrick McLoughlin told MPs he had no doubt HS2 was right for the future of the UK.

Mr McLoughlin was speaking in the House of Commons, before a Bill authorising funding in preparation for the £50 billion scheme was cleared.

The High Speed Rail Preparation Bill was favoured by 350 MPs last Thursday night. Just 34 voted against the scheme which will link London to the north and cut through parts of Staffordshire.

It will now go to the House of Lords for further scrutiny.

Outlining the Bill, Mr McLoughlin said: "Just this week with the storms that hit the south and the east, we have seen how crucial our railways are to national life.

"When trains are crowded and disrupted, life for hard-working people gets more difficult."

Patrick McLoughlin MP

Delays

Mary Creagh, shadow transport secretary, said she was proud to support HS2 but claimed the Government must 'get a grip' on the costs. She also spoke of her concerns, telling MPs: "The project has been put at risk by delays, project mismanagement and, in July, by a huge increase to the budget."

But some MPs spoke less favourably. Birmingham Hall Green's Roger Godsiff said: "If there is no figure, to all intents and purposes we are signing a blank cheque."

Tory MP Cheryl Gillan, representing the Chesham and Amersham constituency, also called HS2 an 'expensive toy'.

And after voting in favour, Walsall North MP David Winnick said he had sympathy for those affected by the scheme but added: "I believe it's in Britain's overall interest and certainly in the interest of the West Midlands that the project goes ahead."

Halesowen and Rowley Regis MP James Morris, who also supported the Bill, said: "It will bring a long-term economic benefit to the West Midlands and the Black Country. I think it is an essential infrastructure programme."

Prime Minister David Cameron said: "We're spending £73bn as a country on road and rail infrastructure. Yes, the £16bn on HS2 is a lot, but it is quite remarkable that we're spending more than three times as much on other transport infrastructure."

MPs split on ballot for Preparation Bill

A CONTROVERSIAL Bill allowing the Government to spend cash preparing for HS2 has been passed. But the Commons vote split Staffordshire MPs – with one vowing to fight 'tooth and nail' against the scheme.

MPs voted by 350 to 34 to approve the High Speed Rail Preparation Bill, which will allow the Government to spend money planning the route in detail and buying up property from residents and businesses on the route.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley and Lichfield's Michael Fabricant voted in favour of the Bill for the £50bn scheme that will rip through Staffordshire countryside. Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy and Stone's MP Bill Cash voted against.

Speaking during the debate, Mr Cash claimed people throughout the country were 'deeply disturbed' by the manner in which the Bill was being 'rammed' through.

Mr Cash said: "I will be fighting it tooth and nail all the way through. I think there's other ways it can be done without causing the damage and disruption."

The Bill won support from Midland MPs David Winnick, Ian Austin, James Morris,Mark Garnier, Margot James and Gavin Williamson. Dudley South MP Chris Kelly opposed the Bill. It will now go to the House of Lords.

Prom dress shop celebrates a year in business

Amber Parkes, left and Beth Cooper celebrating the first anniversary of Celebrity, in Broad Street, Bridgtown

A PROM dress shop has marked its first anniversary since an ex-store manager decided to branch out on her own. Christine Rowlands, an ex-manager at the Fashion Factory, known for its sales of prom dresses, decided to open her own store after the Vine Lane superstore closed in July 2012.

While Fashion Factory has since been taken over by a new boss and re-opened, Christine, aged 47, decided to launch Celebrity Stores last October. The store has almost 1,000 gowns on sale and Christine said: "I have always wanted to have my own prom dress shop. We have girls and their mums come from all over the country to get one of our dresses, which are imported from America."

The store recently began stocking wedding dresses and Mrs Rowlands said she would like to begin selling tuxedos.

Alert over deer poachers

A STAG has been killed at a farm by poachers who used hunting dogs.

The dead animal was discovered in fields in Blithbury near Rugeley.

The stag was chased and then killed by the dogs, according to the Staffordshire Wildlife and Countryside Protection Group. Landowners have been warned to be on their guard.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Faye Casey confirmed the death of the animal had been reported to officers. Faye Burton, wildlife expert and founder of the Rural Policing Liaison Group, said poaching and rustling was rife at this time of year. "Rustling is starting up again now," she said.

Christmas

"We'll start seeing geese, turkeys, sheep and deer being targeted in the run up to Christmas. People need to be aware of what is going on."

Ms Burton said many stags in the area were currently in a bad way as it was mating season, also known as rut.

She added: "There are a few stags on Cannock Chase that are in a very bad way. They get so aggressive during rut and injure each other."

Staffordshire Wildlife and Countryside Protection Group was set up to tackle wildlife and rural crime.

Anyone with information about poaching is asked to call Staffordshire Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Firm gets pizza the action at gateway

Councillor Diane Todd with Mark Watkins, of St Modwen and Pizza Hut Delivery franchisee Kulvinder Kandola

A FAST food chain is the latest to sign up to Hednesford's town centre regeneration scheme.

Cannock Chase Council has welcomed Pizza Hut Delivery to the Chase Gateway development. It officially opened on October 14 and is the latest tenant to open up as part of the £50 million retail project. Councillor Diane Todd, portfolio holder for town centre regeneration said "Hednesford is now a thriving town which can offer residents a good shopping experience."

Mark Watkins, senior development surveyor at developers St Modwen said: "We are really pleased to have welcomed a new tenant to our retail scheme in Hednesford."

Work to have town thriving

A LEADING county councillor says works to completely transform a major gateway into Rugeley will ensure the place thrives.

Residents and traders have criticised the work. They say the narrowing of a main two-lane thoroughfare to a single lane at Horsefair, Rugeley, is unnecessary.

The project is being carried out by Staffordshire County Council, whose economy and infrastructure chief Mark Winnington, said: "This is an exciting project that is all about supporting the regeneration of Rugeley, which is part of our wider plans for Staffordshire.

Committed

"We want to ensure it is a thriving town where people want to live, visit, shop and work, and we are committed to investing in it. We consulted widely on the project, including taking out advertising in the local papers, which generated a low number of responses.

"We will continue to work with people who live and work in the town to make sure we get it right."

Councillor Winnington said the works were 'progressing well' and said he was looking forward to the benefits they will bring to the town.

The work is part of a bid to make Rugeley more pedestrian friendly. Taxi-driver Steven Toy had called the scheme 'an unnecessary disruption'.

Expert on antiques gives talk

CHASE TERRACE LADIES CLUB

PHILIP Serrell visited the club on October 8 as Charles Hanson was unavailable due to ill health.

Charles is suffering from cancer and still managed to run the Great North Run with his colleagues and friends as he is raising money for Sands – "Still-birth and Neo-Natal Death" charity that he came in to contact with on the death of his son.

Philip is an auctioneer, antiques expert and television presenter. He graduated from Loughborough to become a PE teacher before qualifying as a chartered surveyor in 1988 specialising in fine art and antiques. He owns an antiques and values firm in Worcester and a salesroom in Great Malvern.

He started his television career about 10 years ago and is a regular expert on bargain Hunt, Flog It, Antiques Road Trip, Put Your Money Where Your Mouth Is and Dickinson's Real Deal. He has written two books based on his life as a country auctioneer.

Philip said the most satisfying thing was telling someone that something they own is worth a lot of money when they did not realise it, yet one of the worst is to have to tell somebody that their treasured item that they own is worth nothing.

Buckets of cash raised for appeal

Eileen Cryer, Region President Dishi Attwood and Team President Lakhwinder Thompson

CANNOCK SOROPTIMISTS

MEMBERS of SI Cannock and friends enjoyed a fish and ship supper at Littywood Manor, Bradley. The food was wonderful and the friendship even better.

It was organised by the group within the club which considers the economic empowerment of women and was part of their fundraising towards Midland Chase Region President Dishi Attwood's Oxfam Buckethon Appeal for the purchase of clean water buckets. Money raised was added to that collected at a coffee bring and buy in August at the home of Jacquie Gray and meant that a cheque for £293 was presented to the Regional President by Eileen Cryer of the Economic Empowerment group.

Story of Dancing Marquess

LANDOR (LOCAL HISTORY) SOCIETY

THE fascinating story of the 'Dancing Marquess' was the subject of a talk given by Mike Street on October 16.

The title refers to the 5th Marquess of Anglesey, Henry 'Toppy' Paget.

When his father died in 1898 he inherited the title and the family estates which provided an annual income of £110,00. He quickly acquired a reputation for extravagant spending and converted the chapel at the family's country seat of Plas Newydd to a 150-seat theatre where he would perform "sinuous, snakelike dances" dressed in costumes encrusted with real jewels. By 1904 he had accumulated debts of £544,00 and was declared bankrupt.

He died at 30 in 1905 in Monte Carlo. It was, in part, owing to the debts he left that the family's Beaudesert estate had to be broken up and sold in the 1930s.

All Hale Howard as food record set

Getting ready to tuck in at the start of the challenge

Howard shows off his empty plate 53 minutes later

A FOOD-lover has thrown down the gauntlet to fellow customers after completing a mammoth challenge at a Rugeley diner.

Howard Hale, who works at the Amazon warehouse in the town, beat colleagues Terry Steel and Dan Larner in the Man v Food-style contest at Phat Pac's Mexican diner in Horsefair.

The diner, which opened in August, had previously staged an Ultimate Food Challenge, with customers given the task of polishing off a 30-inch burrito platter in under half-an-hour.

This latest initiative challenged customers to eat a pulled pork burger, complete with chips, coleslaw and Phat Pacs' own barbecue sauce.

The dish weighed half a kilo in total, and Howard, of Bilston, was the only one to finish, leaving his plate clean after 53 minutes. And, what's more, he took the challenge at 7am on a Sunday, with two apple juices and a hot chocolate to complement his meal.

Two other hopefuls had tried – and failed the previous night – including Phil Hargreaves, a chef who had attempted the burrito challenge. So the aim is now to beat Howard's record.

Hopefuls

Undeniably proud of his own efforts, Howard said: "In a battle of man v food, man won."

Phat Pac's owner Theresa Harris said: "It was really fun. We are now going to have the challenge on the menu so people can come in anytime and try to beat the time."

The food is free for anyone that completes the challenge.

Phat Pac's can be contacted on 01889 582904.

Howard celebrates his success

NEWS

Drivers are warned over misuse of hard shoulder

FIFTY motorists who repeatedly flouted the law by driving on the hard shoulder of the M6 have been sent warning letters.

Police have been monitoring use of the hard shoulder during busy times as part of a tough new crackdown.

It comes after it emerged up to 250 drivers a day were using the hard shoulder illegally across the West Midlands.

The stretch of the M6 between junctions eight and 10A for Essington is already part of the 'managed motorways' scheme, which sees the hard shoulder open up as a fourth lane at busy times in a bid to cut congestion.

Letters have now been sent out to repeat offenders to warn them they could eventually face prosecution. Motorists are reminded they should only drive in the hard shoulder when the overhead gantries indicate a speed limit for the lane.

Opening

The crackdown is being led by the Highways Agency and Central Motorway Police Group. A joint statement said: "Police officers have been monitoring the use of the hard shoulder where it is opening to traffic during busy periods.

"What they've found is that some people are continuing to misuse the hard shoulder. This month the police have issued around 50 letters to repeat offenders.

"The overall aim is for road users to correctly use the hard shoulder, not to fine them. If there is a red X or nothing displayed above it, don't drive on it – it is for genuine emergencies only."

Busy road shut for works

A MAIN route feeding the M6 will be closed for 11 nights for resurfacing works.The A5 will be shut overnight between Gailey island and the M6 J12 from November 13. It will closed between 8pm and 6am on weekdays, but remain fully open during the weekend.

Boot sales to boost project

Kirsty Hegarty, from Burntwood is having a car boot sale every Sunday until December for a charity that tackles poverty in Bolivia

A CARER hopes to take her healing hands to Bolivia to help look after children with disabilities.

Kirsty Hegarty, aged 25, of Oakdene Road, Burntwood, will spend three months in the country with eight other volunteers.

So far she has raised £250 through holding bake sales and car boots and is appealing for help to reach her target of £800. Kirsty said: "The project is run by the development charity, International Service, which aims to raise awareness for children with disabilities."

Kirsty, who has a degree in health and social care, will be selling her belongings at car boot sales every Sunday until December to raise the last £550.

A CHARITABLE group raised more than £1,000 from a ladies night in Cannock.

Cannock Lions Club organised the event to aid breast cancer patients at Stafford Hospital. A fund has been set up that will enable them to have holistic treatments to help them on their road to recovery.

The fundraiser, at the Premier Suite in Cannock, included a fashion show with breast cancer patients modelling the clothes.

Treatments

They were pampered by Cutting It salon and their make-up was by Esther Marie Woolley. Outfits were supplied by Dragonflies Frocks and Beauty, stalls and beauty treatments were available and The Electric Band provided a musical finale.

A Lions club spokesman said: "Thanks must go to all that helped and the Premier Suite Cannock and Sorella Events who made the room look gorgeous. A total of £1150 was raised for the fund. It was a truly fabulous night."

FOCUS ON PENKRIDGE

Victorian market marks start of festive season

SCORES of shoppers are expected to descend on Penkridge for its annual Victorian Christmas Market.

The event, on Friday November 29, will be held on the site of Penkridge Market. Every year it draws in thousands of people from across the region with a range traders selling food and drink goods and entertainment, including a fun fair and stilt walkers.

Market manager Matt Williams said: "The Victorian Christmas Market is always a fantastic event and marks the start of the festive season here in Penkridge.

"Last year was exceptional, with more stalls than ever before and the grand finale was a spectacular display by our first ever fire-eater and the crowds loved it.

"The market was buzzing and there was a great atmosphere. All of the stall-holders were dressed in Victorian Costumes and the whole site felt very Christmassy."

Preserves

The market will be held from 5-9pm and admission is free. Visitors will be able to sample local delicacies such as savoury scotch eggs, speciality cheeses, jams, chutneys and preserves. There will also be a hog roast, savoury and sweet crepes, roast chestnuts and doughnuts. The Old Deanery Farm Cafe will also be open serving a traditional turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

Two fine food and craft markets will also be held in the run-up to the big day on November 16 and December 21. They will run from 9am to 3.30pm and special poultry sales will take place on December 19 and 23 where visitors can buy dressed turkeys, ducks, chickens and geese.

CD REVIEWS

Get your teeth into The Full English for a treat

The Full English – Various

THIS is the album which has come out of the massive project from the English Folk Dance and Song Society(EFDSS).

The organistaion has produced a huge online database giving access to thousands upon thousands of folk music tracks and song sheets, poems and information which previously has been stored in hard copy and where you had travel to see any of them.

From this, Fay Hield scoured the archives, and came up with the album The Full English which features some of the best folk musicians around today including singer/songwriter and academic Hield.

Musicians such as Hield, Seth Lakeman, Martin Simpson, Nancy Kerr and Sam Sweeney have taken traditional folk tunes and songs and rather than just play them as they were written, have put their own interpretation on them.

The Full English line-up

Hield opens the album with her unadorned voice for a wonderfully traditional ballad Awake Awake.

From this opening track alone you realise this is a gorgeous album which captures all that is good about folk music and British musical culture.

The second track Stand By Your Guns is the unmistakable sound of the immensely talented Lakeman and comes with the full sound you can expect from someone who can seemingly play every instrument known to man.

The album has wonderfully earthy instrumentals such as William and Nancy which is like a time machine as you listen to the fiddle playing you are transported back to the roots and humble beginnings of so many of the songs which have become almost anthems for folk fans.

Creeping Jane is a fantastic track with Martin Simpson's clear voice bringing it to life. The full group is made up of Hield, Lakeman, Simpson, Nancy Kerr, Sweeney, Rob Habron and Ben Nicholls.

Between them they have created a sound which epitomises just how rich, wonderful and evocative British folk music can be.

The Full English is more than just an album, it's almost a history of our musical landscape with its essence captured on disc. The Full English is out now on Topic Records.

Stainton's word is good

Word Games – Lisbee Stainton

THE opening track Red Dog Running certainly makes you sit up and take notice, straight away you get the sound of Stainton's voice clear and flowing without effort.

Word Games has the fingerprints of some of the top names on the folk circuit on it, not least of which is Seth Lakeman.

With Red Dog Running there is more than a hint of Kate Bush about her sound and style with the mixture of booming beat which drops out to her soft voice before going back to the boom.

This gives way to Navigating which singles out Stainton's voice more than the previous track. Eloise is a pretty commercial sounding pop song. This moves into the more playful Make Me Stay, which she co-wrote with Irish songbird Eleanor McEvoy who will be guesting on Stainton's tour. Dance With Me has a much more sultry sound while Fool's Gold is a much more mature ballad with its melancholy melody.

Pulse is a gorgeously mellow and haunting song, while the title track, Word Games, is a slow thoughtful ballad, almost lazy in its execution but with a lovely quirky opening strand.

Stainton starts her tour on November 7 in the Artrix Bromsgrove.

Lowings' voice is almost ethereal

Deepest, Darkest Night EP
Kim Lowings and The Greenwood

THIS is Lowings' second offering after her full album. She has the perfect voice for folk/acoustic music it's soft, ethereal and has a fantastic range.

Off to Sea is a gentle, tuneful and lyrical song, whileThe Cruel Mother is a traditional storytelling folk song which brings to mind June Tabor as Lowings exercises the deeper part of her range and the drums and fiddle add a brooding, eerie harmony.

Annie Laurie is another traditional ballad with a Scottish feel. But no recording will ever really do justice to Lowings' voice, it's best to go and see her live.

Memories inspire coffee fundraiser

Beryl Lovell and daughter Dr Helen Bramwell raise a cuppa in memory of husband and father Mike

A FUNDRAISING coffee morning will be held in aid of diabetes support, inspired by fond memories of a sufferer who died almost a year ago.

Relatives of Michael Lovell have organised the event, at Chasetown Methodist Church in Lawnswood Avenue, from 10am to noon on Saturday. It will include a jewellery, cakes, a bring and buy sale and a raffle.

Father-of-three Mr Lovell received treatment from staff at Good Hope Hospital in Sutton Coldfield, which also runs clinics at Samuel Johnson Community Hospital in Lichfield. The retired accountant was 67 when he passed away a year ago and his family want to thank staff for the care he received at both hospitals.

It has been organised through his wife Beryl, aged 70, and daughter Helen Bramwell, a doctor at the Fulfen practice in Burntwood. Mrs Lovell, who works one day a week at the Well Being Centre in Burntwood, was previously a member of staff at the hospital in Sutton Coldfield.

Tributes paid to drummer in charity gig

A CANNOCK band will headline a tribute concert for Charlatans drummer Jon Brookes next weekend.

Mr Brookes, aged 44, from Burntwood died in August at Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham after battling a brain tumour.

Marquis Drive, who knew Mr Brookes, are the main act at the gig named Pulped. It takes place at Burntwood Rugby Club off The Sportsway on Friday, November 15.

Nigel Clark from 1990s pop band Dodgy will also be performing.

Drummer Jon Brookes

Mourners

There will be more live music from a host of local up and coming acts.

More than 200 mourners attended father-of-three Mr Brookes' funeral in August at Christ Church in Burntwood.

In 2010 he suffered a seizure while on tour in Philadelphia.

He had been receiving treatment for a brain tumour and had undergone three operations, the most recent being in June this year.

Doors for the tribute concert open at 7pm. Tickets for Pulped are £5 on the door.

All proceeds will go to the Brain Tumour Charity.

Rotarians give helping hand to physiotherapist

ROTARIANS have given a helping hand to a nurse who helps treat disabled people around the world.

Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust physio Laura Brown undertook a three-month self-funded placement in Mexico in 2009. She returned to Puerto Vallarta in January 2011 as a further six-month self-funded volunteer. She then set up her own project called Therapies Unite.

To help her access Rotary Clubs in Mexico, she was made an honorary member of the Rotary Club of Cannock and Burntwood.

Ballroom dancers mark social club's centenary

A GLAMOROUS ballroom and sequence dance was held to celebrate the centenary of a social club.

Scores of people attended the special occasion at Heath Hayes Constitutional Club in Hednesford Road.

Attractions organised by club chairman Colin Hayward and his wife Christine on October 18 included darts, pool and dominoes competitions, and stalls selling bric-a-bric.

The dance in the evening was led by teacher Heather Roberts who said: "So many clubs are closing down these days. It's quite an achievement this club has made it to 100 years."

Around £1,100 was raised and went to The Guide Dogs for the Blind Association.

Group's plea to help name soldier found on snapshot

CHRONICLE readers have been asked to solve the mystery photo of an 'unknown soldier' photo found in a Great Wyrley home.

The unknown soldier

None of the family recognise the soldier in question. Now villagers and Chronicle readers are asked to help identify the serviceman.

Diane Tolley, of Great Wyrley Local History Society, said: "We have consulted with society members, with no success. Can any of your readers help us?"

Andy Parsons is to give a talk about his great uncle and his findings at a group coffee morning on November 21 at the Senior Citizens Club in Broadmeadow Lane from 10am.

Research

The photo will be on display along with other items at an annual event day at Harrisons Sports & Social Club in Wharwell Lane from 10am to 4pm on November 16.

Mrs Tolley added: "Great Wyrley Local History Society is liaising with other societies and organisations with research and hoping to produce a suitable chronicle of our village in and around the Great War.

"We have received a small number of family heirlooms, and hope to intensify our efforts in the coming months and aim to record our results so that they will be available for future generations."

For details of the group, or to name the soldier concerned call Diane on 01922 414417, or Ron Myatt on 01922 413849.

In pink for Halloween

A COVEN of pink witches made an early Halloween appearance at a Great Wyrley care home.

Lakeview Care Home, in Stafford Road, hosted a pink witches' party to support the cancer awareness campaign Against Breast Cancer.

While the home was decked out traditionally for Halloween, residents and staff donned pink wigs, hats and costumes.

Pink cakes and pink witches' brew were served and an entertainer provided live music for the residents.

The home, owned by Alpha Care Homes, also asked staff, residents and their families to donate their old bras and take part in Lorraine Kelly's Bin a Bra campaign.

Lakeview activities co-ordinator Chris Carr said: "The Bin A Bra collection is going really well."

Van hits barrier

A VAN struck a barrier in a crash on the A449 at Gailey island.Staffordshire Police officers attended the scene near the Spread Eagle pub at around 6.45pm last Thursday (October 31). The road was closed until 8am while the blue Mercedes van was recovered. The driver was not injured.

Apprentices in line for region's top accolade

THE 13 best building services engineering apprentices in the West Midlands will gather at the National Motorcycle Museum, near Solihull, next week for a regional award ceremony, celebrating the highest achieving young trainees in the industry.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three apprentices, but the region's winner will be singled out to go forward to a national ceremony, hosted at the Tower of London.

The award scheme is run by industry and Government approved training supplier, JTL. Among those shortlisted for tuesday's award (November 12) are Alexander Smith of Burntwood and Jack Bartlett from Rugeley.

NEWS

Cancer campaign is launched

COUNCIL chiefs in Cannock have launched a campaign urging residents to look out for the symptoms of cancer.

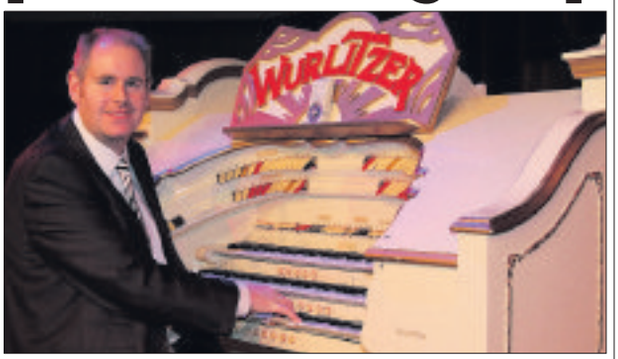
They are warning that a key symptom of bladder and kidney cancers is blood in urine and advise anyone who spots the symptom should visit their GP.

Councillor Muriel Davis, the council's leader for health and wellbeing, said: "It is important for us to get the message out to residents. Blood in urine is a key symptom of bladder and kidney cancer Receiving an early diagnosis increases the chance of survival."

Of those diagnosed with kidney cancer in England approximately 71 per cent will survive for at least one year, with around 54 per cent surviving for at least five years.

However the earlier kidney cancer is diagnosed the higher the chance of survival.

Music host pulls out the stops to perform for group



Chris Powell, Burntwood Music For All host, performs for the group on November 21

THE Burntwood Music For All group welcomes its own host, the international star of the keyboards Chris Powell, later this month.

The group's monthly concert takes place at the Burntwood Memorial Institute Hall, in Rugeley Road, on Thursday November 21st at 7.30pm.

Together with his wife Marie, Chris helped to rescue the shows in Burntwood following the closure of the then Burntwood Organ Society back in 2005. The Music For All Group has been a great success ever since and has welcomed star players from all around the UK as well as Germany, Holland and Australia.

Chris's first musical break was joining the team of musicians playing the Mighty Wurlitzer Theatre Organ at Blackpool Tower Ballroom at the age of 18. That was followed by a continual schedule of touring around the UK and abroad.

He has played in the USA, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, The Channel Islands and Isle Of Man and later this month jets off for a weekend of shows in Holland before departing in mid-March for his 14th such tour of New Zealand and Australia.

Diverse

The audience at Burntwood can expect a diverse programme with pop hits from the 50s through to the 80s, songs from the shows, jazz classics and tribute-style items to the likes of James Last, Glenn Miller and Andre Rieu.

Tickets are £5, available on the door. There are interval refreshments and a licensed bar. More details from CMP Promotions on 01530 274270.

A truck bearing the famous Jack Moody Livery at the entrepreneur's recycling yard near Cheslyn Hay

50 years in business for Jack Moody

Business has been on the landscape for past 50 years

BACK in the early 1960s, steelworker Jack Moody, a groundsman's son, tired of his work in the foundries and wood mills.

Aged just 17, he invested in a rake, a fork and a shovel, fastened the tools of his trade to his bicycle and pedalled off around the West Midlands to set up his own landscape construction business.

Now 50 years on, Jack Moody Holdings PLC has a turnover of around £16million, a staff in excess 250 and has won numerous awards and accreditations.

His businesses now include one of the UK's largest independent garden centres, Hollybush Garden Centre, at Shareshill as well as the country's leading purpose-built recycling facility Jack Moody Landscapes Limited.

Jack's first foray into the world of landscaping involved mostly domestic gardens, with him working alongside two assistants. One of them, Gordon Griffiths, is still with the company today as contracts director. Jack soon passed his driving test and bought his first van, a Morris Minor. A few years later he was able to buy his first business premises, in Brunswick Park Road, Wednesbury, where he doubled his workforce and bought his first pick-up.

Wednesbury Fencing was formed as part of a practical expansion in 1976, and the company became a Limited Company the following year when it moved to its present site at Hollybush Farm. The site become a garden centre and, as its success grew, it expanded.

Contracts

Today its numerous successes include subsidiary nurseries and aquatic centres and major recycling sites at Stafford, Telford, Berkswell near Solihull. The recycling businesses has steadily expanded and now has contracts with numerous local authorities to receive and process their green waste.

It also works with major housebuilders on showhome landscaping – including Barratt, Bovis, Persimmon, Redrow and Cala Homes.

The business has won several contracts and numerous awards including three separate medals from BBC Gardener's World Live.

Among the more innovative contracts has been the installation of a roof garden at a Lichfield care home, the prestigious landscaping contract at the FA's Staffordshire headquarters at St George's Park, Burton and, for the first time in the UK, the setting up of courtyard landscaping using only edible plants, undertaken for Coventry University.

It is still very much a family business, though, as Jack's wife June has worked alongside him for 45 years. Son Robert is managing director and Kate is Hollybush's business development manager.

Many of the staff have worked there for more than 20 years.

A particular success is an aquarium and aquatics department which was directed by Tim Porter, who was with the company for 30 years.

Tim died earlier this year after losing his battle with cancer, and a special tribute is in the process of being finalised which will involve setting up a Charity Trust Fund in his name.

Son Robert is managing director

Christmas in Staffordshire

Christmas cheer is coming to Cannock

Jean Martyn, star of Britain's Got Talent will be at the launch of Cannock's festivities next Friday, November 15

THE Cannock Traders Association is delighted to announce it will be holding its annual Christmas Light Switch On event, on Friday, November 15, in the town centre.

From 4pm until 8pm children's amusements and stalls will be on offer to the younger residents of Cannock.

Local DJs from the DanceBitz Roadshow, will also be providing entertainment to the crowds as people line the street in anticipation of the night's activities.

At 6pm Father Christmas will arrive to meet and greet festive shoppers whilst posing for photographs with his fans young and old. He will make his way to his grotto which will be situated at the lower band stand, courtesy of the Rotary Club.

Transform

To coincide with the spectacular firework display at 7pm, the Christmas lights will be switched on by Britain's Got Talent star and resident, Jean Martyn.

If that's not enough, a face painter will also be on hand throughout the evening's activities to transform the little shoppers into their heart's desire.

Residents are advised there will be no pedestrian access along Market Hall Street between 6.45pm and 7.15pm.

Barriers will be put up across the Beecroft underpass, access routes leading from the Forum and the bottom of Market Hall Street to ensure that the area is completely pedestrian free during this period. This includes the area known as Littleton Court.

There will be access to toilets within Cannock Shopping Centre, however, there will only be access from the Bus Station during this time with no access available to and from Market Hall Street.

Aladdin story to excite all

The cast of Aladdin are ready to wow and excite audiences at the Prince of Wales Theatre later this year

The timeless tale of Aladdin is a pantomime classic so come along and follow Aladdin as he tries to make his fortune and gain the hand of the beautiful Princess in marriage.

But his wicked uncle Abanazar will be trying to steal the Princess and get all the riches of the cave for himself. To complicate things further Aladdin has to contend with his hapless mother, Widow Twanky. Aided by the Slave of the Ring and the magical Genie, will Aladdin make his dreams come true?

Starring in Aladdin as the Emperor of China is Darren John Langford. Darren is best known for playing the character of Spencer Gray in TV's Hollyoaks.

He also has a long list of theatre credits appearing in productions of Macbeth and Romeo and Juliet as well as panto appearances in Mother Goose and Cinderella. This is Darren's first production for PMA Productions and his first visit to the Prince of Wales.

Christmas in Staffordshire

Full of Victorian charm

WITH more than 100 stalls of fabulous food and local crafts, as well as plenty of entertainment, it's no wonder Penkridge Victorian Christmas Market is the event that everyone looks forward to and truly marks the start of the festive season.

This year it will be taking place on November 29 from 5- 9pm on the site of Penkridge Market, and admission to the event will be free of charge.

The market will be brimming with local produce, with the chance to sample local delicacies such as savoury scotch eggs, speciality cheeses, jams, chutneys and preserves. And if that's not enough to satisfy your appetite, there will be a wide variety of refreshments available, including a hog roast, savoury and sweet crepes, roast chestnuts and doughnuts to name but a few.

The Old Deanery Farm Cafe will also be open serving hot drinks and festive food, including a traditional turkey dinner with all the trimmings. There will be a wide range of craft stalls selling everything from glass-beaded jewellery to fabric handbags, rag dolls and wooden toys.

With such a variety of unique gifts, you're sure to find presents for everyone – even for that really difficult person to buy for.

Father Christmas will of course be making an extra-special guest appearance helped by his good friends of the Round Table.

There will be plenty to keep everyone entertained including Arthur's Fun Fair; the Staffordshire Fire engine; Bridgtown Concert Band and Christmas carols.

Parking and admission is free.

For further information on the event, telephone 01785 713419 or visit the website at www.penkridgemarket.co.uk

Helping to keep the elderly independent

JOHN is in his 80s and lives with his wife and primary carer in his own home, close to Cannock. John has been active all his life with a very busy professional career building up his own business.

Once retired, John spent a large number of years helping Age UK South Staffordshire as a volunteer is a number of capacities. He has helped other older people and their carers by providing vital back up to staff with all sorts of administration and help.

Outlook

John and his wife have recently decided to take advantage of the day opportunities resources at the lovely Roller Mill, in Penkridge, set in a historic converted Mill building in a rural setting with idyllic outlook – with its regular herd of beef cattle and the occasional passing ducks and swan in high tide.

The state of the art facilities at Roller Mill are organised across three different rooms with different facilities and are designed for a wide range of complex needs including dementia.

Guests at the Mill benefit from three meals a day, a wide range of therapeutic activities, trained, professional staff and door to door transport. Age UK South Staffordshire also have Day Opportunities centres at Tamworth and Cannock with excellent facilities and similar benefits.

John has made the most of the day opportunities resource at the Roller Mill

If you have been inspired by John's Story, we offer a free 'taster day' to experience the facilities, staff and atmosphere at any of our three centres with absolutely no obligation.

Please phone 01785 788 477 for further information.

Helped

John will be able to benefit from a fantastic new development at Roller Mill shortly as a sensory garden is being developed with help from a team of young people from the Princes Trust helped by the guests at Roller Mill themselves.

Age UK South Staffordshire aims to keep older people independent in their own homes with their best possible quality of life, and if you would like further information on our Day Opportunities services, care and help we can provide in the home, free information and advice and a huge range of volunteering opportunities, telephone 01785 788 477.

Christmas in Staffordshire

Camera swapped for poison apple

THE stars of the Lichfield Garrick's Christmas pantomime, Snow White and the Magic Mirror, graced the theatre's stage to launch the spectacular festive show.

The cast, headed up by news presenter Joanne Malin, gathered at the theatre in full costume to get into character.

Adrian Jackson, Lichfield Garrick's chief executive and artistic director, said: "It was great to welcome the cast of our Christmas pantomime to the theatre.

"Over the last two years, our audiences have enjoyed our Christmas musicals, which have received great reviews.

Routines

"This year we're bringing back the fun of a traditional pantomime and Snow White will have it all; spectacular Christmas scenes, great music and dance routines, and a dame who the whole family will love.The production will also feature a live eight-piece band on stage which I will once again be conducting."

This year's seasonal offering will have all the magic of A Christmas Carol and Alice in Wonderland, but will see a return to a traditional pantomime, featuring Lichfield's favourite dame, Ian Adams who will give a 'beautiful' interpretation of Dame Fraulein Strudel.

Joanne Malin, who is playing Evil Queen Evilene, is known by many as a news presenter and radio broadcaster and can currently be seen regularly presenting BBC Midlands Today.

When it comes to treading the boards, Joanne is no stranger to Lichfield Garrick's, stage, having played the Fairy Godmother in the theatre's 2007 production of Cinderella and Fairy Bow Bells in its 2008 production of Dick Whittington.

"I'm really excited about playing the wicked Queen this Christmas and being back on stage at the Lichfield Garrick," said Joanne.

"I fell in love with Lichfield while playing the Fairy-Godmother six years ago, so I am really looking forward to being back. My preparations are well underway.

"I'm having singing lessons with a local vocal coach, I've started weekly dance classes, and I've joined a slimming club, to make sure I'm fit and ready to go by December.

"My biggest challenge is being the baddie for the first time. I can't wait for all the booing and hissing that will come my way during a show full of panto fun. I am always impressed at the standard of the Christmas show the team at the Garrick produce every year, keeping prices at an inclusive level so many local families and groups can enjoy the theatre, sometimes for the very first time."

Snow White and the Magic Mirror is playing at the Lichfield Garrick from Thursday, December 5 to Sunday, January 5, with a variety of schools', matinee and evening performances.

Tickets cost from £12.50 for children and from £20 for adults, and can be booked online at www.lichfieldgarrick.com or by calling the box office on 01543 412121.

Best in Bengali cuisine at Cannock restaurant

THE Elaichi Restaurant serves fresh, flavourful, upscale-casual Bengali-style dishes, prepared from the finest ingredients sourced from around the world.

As one of Cannock's longest established restaurants, the least diners would expect from Elaichi is good customer service – and the Cannock Road restaurant has it in abundance.

What's more, customer service has won the restaurant awards, with certificates adorning the wall of the exquisite looking dining establishment.

Staff are jovial and pleasant, yet patient too, allowing diners to pour over the expansive menu.

These factors go some way to explaining why Elaichi has become one of the finest restaurants of its kind across the district. Then, of course, there's the food. Having such a wide range of dishes to choose from would explain why diners keep going back.

With the restaurant situated along the main row of shops in Chadsmoor's 'high street', it remains popular with many people from within walking distance.

Reputation

However, its reputation has earned it admiration among residents from neighbouring towns and villages.

Staff make everything by hand every day – from delicious and flavourful sauces to salad dressings. It recently expanded the menu to include more moderately priced dishes of fine quality spices.

The menu ranges from traditional starters to main dishes, to chef's specialities such as Shai lamb and the Elaichi special. Fresh ingredients are used every day to give that extra quality to all our dishes.

Staff look forward to sharing their passion for good food and service with customers, and welcome you as guests. They are proud of the time and effort that goes into preparing each of the dishes and look forward to serving you.

Elaichi is open seven days a week, including bank holidays from 5pm. Takeaways are also available, with free delivery on offer within a five mile radius on orders more than £8, a free bottle of wine for orders of more than £20, £10 to spend in the restaurant when more than £40 is spent, and free poppadums and dips with every meal.

● Elaichi was named winner of the Curry Cup award by the Midland Balti Association 2012-13 and has a five-star rating for food hygiene by Cannock Council.

Comic version of Scottish play

ST Luke's Dramatic Society present Shakespeare's classic Macbeth at the Prince of Wales next week.

But it's not just any old production of that Scottish play – it is the Farndale Avenue Housing Estate Townswomen's Guild's production.

Among the greasepaint and the wigs and props, guild chairman Mrs Reece is the driving force behind the production. Under her direction, she believes it will not be bettered.

Mrs Reece firmly believes that when things go wrong, you cannot just lie down and accept them.

So what if Lady Macbeth accidentally got on the wrong bus, the third witch has broken her leg or the wrong props have been delivered. And, who cares if the director has collapsed with the scenery? The show must go on.

St Luke's has a reputation for delivering first class comedy and this promises to be no exception. The show runs from November 14 to 16 at the Church Street venue with curtain up at 7.30pm each night.

Tickets are £9, or £7 concessions, available from the box office on 01543 578762.

Veteran singers

VETERAN Irish duo Foster & Allen entertain fans at the Prince of Wales Centre. They perform at the Church Street theatre from 7.30pm on Tuesday, November 19. Tickets are £20. Call 01543 578762.

Festive favourite should be right up your street

THIS is a real gift for theatre lovers as Miracle on 34th Street, based on one of the most popular and best-loved Christmas films of all time, pays a festive visit to Wolverhampton Grand Theatre as part of the UK Premiere Tour.

Based on the 1947 motion picture it is the heart-warming story of Susan, a young girl who dreams of a father and brother to make her family complete, and Kris Kringle, a kindly old bearded man who claims he is the real Santa Claus.

When he is employed as a Santa at a department store grotto run by Susan's mother, he quickly spreads a wave of love through New York City.

But Susan has always been told by her mother that there is no such thing as Santa so can he really help make her wish come true? This all-singing, all-dancing musical adaptation is an uplifting family tale of battling cynicism and learning what it truly means to believe.

Awards

It runs at the Grand from next Thursday (14) to Saturday (16) with evening and daytime performances.

Miracle on 34th Street originated as a 1947 motion picture starring Maureen O'Hara, John Payne, Natalie Wood and Edmund Gwenn. The film became a perennial Christmas favourite, winning three Academy Awards and being nominated for Best Picture.

If you miss it at the Grand it is moving down the road to Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre where an extra date has been announced due to the demand for tickets. It is due to run there from Thursday, December 5 to Saturday, December 7. The extra matinee performance is on December 6 at 1pm.

Lowings adds new tour date

STOURBRIDGE singer/songwriter Kim Lowings has added a new date to her latest tour which is promoting her EP Deepest, Darkest Night.

Lowings who plays with The Greenwood, which is a collective of local musicians, will be appearing at The Hinckley ACT, Leicestershire for the first time on December 13.

Support

Lowings, who has been touring for most of the year, will also be playing in Kings Norton, Birmingham on November 17 at Lobelia's Lazy Sunday Songwriter Sessions at the Tower of Song from 8pm.

The following night the trio, Tim Rogers on percussion and Andrew Lowings on guitar, will be playing at the Warwick Folk Club at the Warwick Arms Hotel, High Street.

Then they will be back in Birmingham supporting the legendary Martin Simpson at the Red Lion Folk Club, Vicarage Road, Kings Heath on November 27.

Cutting edge of Lawnmower

James Acaster on the road with UK tour

COMEDIAN James Acaster is following his hit Edinburgh show with a UK tour that reaches Birmingham later this month.

Lawnmower, Acaster's sell-out Edinburgh Fringe performance, was shortlisted for Foster's Edinburgh Comedy Award best show. Now, the comic is on the road with his critically-acclaimed act.

Acaster will reveal on the 31-date tour how he's attempting to clear Yoko Ono's name, why he continues to dress head to toe in Marks & Spencer and the reasons why he's obsessed with Mariachi music.

Nominations

Since winning Off The Kerb's Laughing Boy New Act of the Year in 2010, Acaster has gone on to receive critical acclaim for his Edinburgh shows, including award nominations in 2012 and 2013.

As well as appearing on stage, the funnyman recently recorded 'James Acaster's Findings' for BBC Radio 4.

In August 2010, he performed as part of BBC's 'Stand Up on the Street' during the Edinburgh Festival, while TV appearances have included Russell Howard's Good News, Dave's One Night Stand, Show and Tell , Live at The Comedy Store and the Edinburgh Fest Comedy Gala.

James Acaster performs at the Glee Studio in Birmingham on Sunday, November 28. Call 08714 720 400 for ticket details.

REVIEW

The Armed Man: A Mass for Peace, Symphony Hall

NEARLY 1,700 in the audience and no programmes left at half time, that's how popular the great Karl Jenkins is.

His ardent band of followers were not left disappointed as the two-hour programme punched out nods to the old from his Palladio orchestral opener to the choir's beautifully-syncopated Paradisum from his Requiem which closed the first half.

Inbetween there were excerpts from the less well-known Stabat Mater, which was glorious and The Peacemakers, which has still to grow on me.

Expense

The second half was taken up with his anti-war Armed Man composition. Popular with both his non-singing fans and those in amateur choirs, despite the galling expense of performing it, it deservedly won a standing ovation for being a masterclass in how it should be done.

A work of contrasts which weave together fear, rage, menace, prayer, resolution and hope, there are soaring melodies and a sense of urgency which were caught perfectly by all involved, especially the percussion section.

Some productions use a backdrop of film images designed to emote but such was the passion in Symphony Hall on Saturday they would have been entirely superfluous.

Dermot O'Leary

The X Factor
ITV, 8pm
Loosen your tie and mix yourself a cocktail – it's Big Band Week on The X Factor. Of course, that might not be good news for all the contestants. Tamera Foster, Nicholas McDonald and Sam Bailey have all shown they can belt out a ballad, so if they've made it this far, they should be in their element. However, some of the acts who prefer rock, R'n'B or acoustic versions of pop classics may be on shakier ground. Luckily, Dermot O'Leary, who is always nicely turned out, should feel at home in a week when the contestants will be suited and booted, ready to croon a classic.

Pick of the Week

Stars shine bright on a night of charitable fun

Hosting a live TV show isn't easy – just ask Mick Fleetwood and Sam Fox. It's 24 years since they co-hosted the Brit Awards, but the thought of them hemming and hawing their way through several painful hours of presenting duties still sends shivers down the spine of those who saw it.

We reckon wannabe TV presenters everywhere should watch it so they know exactly how not to go about a live broadcast.

Thankfully, Children in Need is in far more seasoned hands. Tess Daly, Fearne Cotton, Nick Grimshaw and Zoe Ball are all old hands at live broadcasts, but the glue holding the whole thing together is, as ever, Terry Wogan – and the show just wouldn't be the same without him.

He makes the whole process seem completely effortless – perhaps it's because he's so affable and always does his best to make those appearing in the studio at their ease.

"I'm not a confrontational interviewer," explains Wogan. "It would be easy to be abrasive, but nobody would want to come on the show. Sometimes an interview I think didn't go well was actually very good, and vice versa. You're not always the best judge yourself."

Children in Need is now an iconic annual event, and is so huge, it can no longer be confined to just one marathon programme broadcast at prime time.

Instead, the action begins around lunchtime with a Strictly Come Dancing-themed Bargain Hunt special, while Pointless and The One Show also get in on the fund-raising act.

But the real fun begins at 7.30pm, when the telethon itself begins.

Those involved hope to raise more than the £26million collected in 2012, and have a heap of entertainment lined up that they hope will inspire us to dig deep – something the Great British public has continued to do, despite the credit crunch.

Among the delights to look out for is a dance extravaganza featuring the cast of EastEnders, a very special edition of Room 101, and musical performances from the likes of Tinie Tempah, JLS, One Direction, and Ellie Goulding, singer of this year's CIN single, How Long Will I Love You.

But sci-fi fans will be most keen to see the now traditional appearance of a short Doctor Who special on the night.

No details have been released about what it may feature, but fans have already begun speculating about it online. With the 50th anniversary of the show taking place later in the month, many are hoping it will tie-in with that – and may even include some secrets about the mysterious incarnation played by John Hurt, who appeared briefly in the last episode of the previous run.

But whatever happens, Children in Need will always really be about fundraising – and is something Terry is only too pleased to be involved with.

"It is always a privilege and pleasure, the highest point of my year, to present BBC Children in Need," says Wogan. "This year we are hoping the great British public will give us even more. We've certainly got a fantastic show line-up this year. I know I say that every year but this year really is special."

The fundraising fun returns, Children in Need 2013, Friday, BBC1, 7.30pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Emmerdale
ITV, 7pm
Amy may have abandoned little Kyle in a phone box when he was born, and then put him up for adoption, but she's certainly not going to give up on him again. In fact, she's so determined to be part of the little boy's life that his grandmother Joanie has called the police and taken the extra precaution of getting a restraining order. Amy is crushed when Diane tells her the news, but instead of giving up hope, she simply comes up with a new, more drastic approach – one that will mean choosing between staying with Andy and starting a new life with her son. Meanwhile, Priya has second thoughts on the day of her termination.

Ripper Street
BBC1, 9pm
Brace yourselves for a shock – Reid and his colleagues aren't about to be faced with an untimely death. Instead, they're called in to investigate the abduction of a politician from a popular Whitechapel theatre. Rose Erskine has been working there since leaving the brothel, but will Drake's long-buried desire for her be awakened when they come face-to-face again? Reid, meanwhile, suspects the kidnappers are members of an all-female gang connected to councillor Jane Cobden, who harbours some rather radical views. Long Susan becomes one of their victims too, but finds herself drawn to her captors' cause – but what is it that the villains actually want to achieve?

TUESDAY
Martin Lewis Money Show – The Twelve Saves of Christmas
ITV, 8pm
Don't worry, Martin Lewis isn't trying to make us celebrate yuletide in November. Instead, his hour-long helping of seasonal saving tips is coming to us just in time to help us plan a thrifty Christmas celebration. Martin and reporter Saira Khan reveal that it's not too late to bag yourself a bargain, and unveil their unique 'advent calendar', predicting when the major retailers are most likely to start offering discounts, so viewers can be primed to pounce. And there's also a reminder that Christmas doesn't have to be commercial at all as Archbishop of Canterbury Justin Welby shares his own tips on making sure that it's the memories that last into the New Year, not the repayments.

The Story of Musicals
Channel 4, 9pm
Business may be booming in London's West End, but for the producers, actors and writers dreaming of staging a hit musical, that just means the competition is even fiercer. This new four-part series takes a look at the process of putting on a show, as the first episode goes behind the scenes of Academy Award-winning director Sam Mendes' new take on Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. The production was launched in a blaze of publicity, but as this series shows, the real drama doesn't take place on opening night. Once the initial media excitement dies down, how do you keep filling those theatre seats?

Children in Need Rocks, Thursday, BBC1, 8pm

WEDNESDAY
JFK's Secret Killer: The Evidence
Channel 5, 9pm
November 22 will mark the 50th anniversary of the assassination of US President John F Kennedy, which can only mean one thing – a new wave of theories about who really pulled the trigger. This documentary aims to get to the bottom of the case by recruiting a seasoned police detective to examine the events of that fateful day at the Dealey Plaza, Dallas. Using witness testimony, as well as the latest technology and methods which weren't available in 1963, the programme reaches a remarkable conclusion about the true identity of JFK's assassin.

THURSDAY
Children in Need Rocks
BBC1, 8pm
Gary Barlow is going to meet himself coming backwards one of these days. In and amongst his X Factor duties, showbiz's busiest man has somehow found the time to sweet-talk some of his closest pals into a one-off concert. Chris Evans and Fearne Cotton will be hosting the event, which takes place at the Apollo in Hammersmith, London, and will see some of the biggest names in the industry rock the crowds. Acts including Kings of Leon, Robbie Williams, Barry Manilow, Dizzee Rascal, the Wanted, Little Mix, Ellie Goulding, Rizzle Kicks, Bastille, Tom Odell and the Lumineers are all set to perform.

FRIDAY
Chris Tarrant Goes Fishing
Channel 5, 7pm
The series which sees telly presenter and quizmaster Chris Tarrant swap his lifelines for nylon line and sample some of the world's greatest fishing grounds continues, as this week he – along with trusty guide John Horsey – heads to Wellesley Lake in Canada's Yukon territory. The frigid waters are full of pike, which are excellent sport fish, however they're not what Chris and professional angler John are after – they're looking for the elusive Arctic char, a relative of the salmon which can grow in excess of 50lbs in weight and sit proudly at the top of the food chain. But can they tempt the monsters out of hiding?

Back to the future: Caterham launching the new Seven 160

The Caterham Seven 160 stays true to the original Seven and also passes latest emission regulations

BRITISH sports car maker Caterham has announced a new low-priced version of its long-running Seven model.

Dubbed the Seven 160, the new model starts at only £14,995 in component form or £17,995 fully built.

Under the bonnet there is a turbocharged 660cc Suzuki engine and although this only offers up a modest 80bhp, that's still enough to power the lightweight Seven from 0-60mph in 6.5 seconds.

The Seven 160 stays true to the original Seven with a simple live rear axle, downsized engine and clutter-free cabin, helping it to achieve its remarkable 495kg overall weight. What is more, the modern Suzuki unit allows the Seven 160 to pass the latest EU6 emission regulations.

Caterham Cars chief executive officer, Graham Macdonald, said: "The 160 offers something truly different to the entry-level market.

It's more economical, more accessible and every bit as fun on the road as other Sevens but has its own unique personality."

The new rear axle, a throwback to early Sevens in terms of simplicity and purity of design, complements the Suzuki Motor Corporation engine and lower overall body weight, while delivering Caterham's acclaimed, intuitive handling experience and a balanced yet playful chassis.

To meet the desired performance criteria, the Caterham Group's engineering consultancy, Caterham Technology and Innovation (CTI), fine-tuned engine performance from its standard output of 64hp to 80hp, while boosting fuel economy and reducing vehicle emissions. The vehicle conforms to EU5, EU6 and JC08 emissions regulations.

Production of the Caterham Seven 160 begins in the UK in January 2014 with the first deliveries in the spring.

Nick Chapman and Rosemary Homer from Leicestershire County Council won the annual eco-run

Frugal Ford Fiesta wins annual mpg marathon

A FORD Fiesta ECOnetic has been declared the winner of the 2013 ALD Automotive/ Shell FuelSave MPG Marathon for the second year in a row, after out-performing a field of over 23 vehicles.

Nick Chapman and Rosemary Homer from Leicestershire County Council won the annual eco-run, piloting the 1.6 diesel-engined Titanium model to 88.69mpg over 339.3 miles.

The annual event puts efficient driving skills to the test, as drivers must complete the distance by using the least amount of fuel possible. This year's course was considered the toughest yet with 46 competitors driving from Tankersley Manor, near Sheffield, and negotiating hill climbs, bad weather and heavy traffic.

In the LCV section, the Ford Fiesta Sport Van, driven by BBC transport correspondent Paul Clifton and his son Doug, covered 362.9 miles with just 3.33 gallons of diesel – an impressive 108.82mpg, beating the Ford's official combined figure of 78.5mpg by 38.62 per cent.

With CO2 emissions of just 95g/km, the Fiesta Van proves commercial vehicle drivers can be just as efficient as those in cars. Both Fiesta models are powered by a frugal 95PS 1.6-litre Duratorq TDCi diesel engine with efficient technology features including Auto-Start-Stop, lowered suspension, aerodynamic rear under-tray and wheel trims, and low rolling resistance tyres. A Ford Transit Custom ECOnetic driven by Andy Dawson and Andrew Marriott won the Class 9 section with an impressive 53.8mpg over the course with a 20 per cent improvement over the official combined fuel consumption figure of 46.3mpg.

The latest Outback from Subaru has new alloy wheels and headlamps

Subaru is now travelling on the right track

By Ian Donaldson

YOU can't fault the honesty of a boss when he says the business 'has recently emerged from a rather dark period.' If only everyone was as frank.

The company in question is Subaru, makers of Japanese cars which consistently plough their own engineering furrow, appealing like crazy to a limited number of buyers.

Too limited in recent years, by far, hindered by Japanese currency so strong it made the cars expensive in the UK and by a model range that lagged behind the times.

If you still associate Subaru with blue and gold cars of the turbo-nutter variety, then please think again. The glory days of world rally championship wins are long gone as we turn green and eco.

There are hints we might see something in the go-faster mould in 2014 but, if it arrives here at all, sales will be tiny compared to the several thousand Imprezas that Subaru used to shift each year in the UK.

Nowadays the great bulk of Subaru buyers opt for more sensible transport offered in the likes of the Legacy, Forester and the car tested here, the latest Outback.

It's really a slightly jacked up Legacy with a bit of attitude and none the worse for that. With permanent all-wheel drive and engine laid flat to keep the weight low, this is a Subaru in the old tradition of super-sensible design.

Add in a diesel engine that promises decent economy and, a first for the company, a clever automatic transmission as standard and you have a car that remains interesting enough to claim its Subaru heritage with pride.

Indicators

This latest Outback has been mildly worked over outside, with new alloy wheels and headlamps to the fore, while inside you'll find the electronic parking brake moved from the depths of the dashboard to the central console, where it should have been in the first place.

In another move that shows Subaru listens to its customers, the indicators now give three flashes at a gentle tap of the stalk. European cars have had this useful overtaking feature for years but it's good to know Japan is catching up.

Look hard and you'll also discover new part leather seats and revised instruments that are easier to read.

Subaru has been looking at the bits you can't see too, with firmer suspension aimed at making the car a bit more positive to drive without ruining the ride.

So a pretty thorough makeover, and a lot more than the new colours and wheels that other makers get excited about when it's time to refresh a model range midway through its life.

Out on varied and quite demanding choice of North Yorkshire roads, the latest Outback soon showed why it's a long time favourite of people like vets and farmers who need to go places when the roads turn slippery.

They don't need a car to tackle mountain peaks or cross roaring torrents, just something that will get them to end of a remote lane (and back) when there's a pressing need to be out in dreadful weather.

Well, in Yorkshire sunshine and showers the Outback was a relaxed charmer. Its new auto gearbox is a perfect match for the lowdown pulling power of a diesel and we made smooth and rapid progress.

Only occasionally did the newly firmed suspension feel a bit pattery but the newfound sharpness to the steering more than compensated.

The Subaru boss happily told me 'we're back in the black again' and this latest Outback will only add to the bottom line.

EVANS
May

Five years November 11, 2013.

Beautiful memories of our dearest Mom, Nan and Great-Nan.

The face we love is missing, the voice we love is still.

The hands that did so much for us, are resting at God's will.

Our hearts are full of memories, your love is still our guide.

Although we cannot see you, you are always by our side.

We miss you more each day.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

The Local Plan (Part 1) sets out the strategic and development management policy for Cannock Chase District up to 2028 to help shape the way in which its physical, economic, social and environmental characteristics will change. It brings together the former emerging Core Strategy and Rugeley Town Centre Area Action Plan into one document. It is a Development Plan Document produced under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, as amended.

The Local Plan (Part 1) was Submitted to the Secretary of State for independent examination on 31st May 2013. THIS CONSULTATION IS NOT AN OPPORTUNITY TO REPEAT OR RAISE FURTHER REPRESENTATIONS ABOUT THE PUBLISHED PLAN OR TO SEEK FURTHER CHANGES TO THE PLAN. The Main Modifications proposed relate to a number of policies (and supporting text) but are primarily focused upon housing policies (including land West of Pye Green Road); policies relating to Cannock Chase Special Area of Conservation (SAC); and the future production of further local plans in the District.

Karate pair bring home the medals

TWO young martial artists came home with a haul of medals while representing their country as part of the Wadokai England karate squad at the recent European Championships.

Jessica won silver in the individual kata and gold in the team kata.

Luke won silver in the individual and team Kata and team kumite, he also won bronze in the individual kumite.

Comeback kings reign supreme – again

Burntwood 31 Handsworth 20

THE comeback kings were at it again at the weekend at home to Handsworth.

Having salvaged a draw from 19-3 down at Edwardians a week earlier, Burntwood turned a 20-3 deficit into a bonus point win at The Sportsway as the sides shared eight tries. Whilst the visitors drew a blank from the tee, Will Peach landed two penalties, a conversion and a drop goal for good measure.

Burntwood infringed at a scrum and a quick-tapped penalty saw the visitors open the scoring with their first try. The second followed on 14 minutes.

The hosts, playing into the wind, responded well. A drive by Danny Poole into Handsworth territory drew two penalty awards. Peach kicked for goal on the second but his attempt was blown back from the target.

Handsworth were in again after 21 minutes. Back came Burntwood again, driving the ball close to the pack to earn another penalty.

This time Peach drilled his kick over to make it 3-15.

Five minutes from half time the visitors secured a try bonus point

Rugby

Burntwood needed a reply before the break to give themselves any hope and crucially it came. A burst by Jack Neal took play into the Handsworth half. From a penalty award Peach kicked to the corner. A Burntwood catch and drive was close but only produced a scrum.

After Graham Shelley was twice held up over the line, he was successful with his third attempt to narrow the deficit. Peach didn't convert but the visitors were down to 14 with a player yellow carded. After 52 minutes skipper Ian Jones dived over from behind a driving scrum for a try to make it 13-20.

Seven minutes later a catch and drive from a line out in the bottom corner led to a try for Neal .

When Peach kicked to the clubhouse corner, Shelley stole the line out just past the hour mark to send Danny Poole close to the line.

Peach slotted a fine drop goal from 30 metres to put his side ahead. With 10 minutes to go, another Peach touchfinder set up good field position. Shelley maintained his dominance of the line out to set up drives towards the posts by Luke Rookyard, Neal and Poole junior.

When the backs moved the ball back left Craig Seedhouse supplied a neat pass for Ben Holt to score in the corner. Peach converted from the touchline to put Burntwood two scores in front.

Pitmen come through tough test for victory

Altrincham 1 Hednesford Town 3

HEDNESFORD Town were able to make a real statement of intent to the other sides in the Skrill North following an excellent 3-1 on the road against one of the pre-season title favourites Altrincham.

The Pitmen were very much down to the bare bones for what was expected to be one of their toughest tests of the season, with Ben Bailey and Dave Macpherson both starting suspensions whilst Darren Campion missed out through injury.

Football

Despite this, the away side made a lively start to the game and were ahead in the eighth minute.

A ball to the feet of Neil Harvey was superbly laid off to Robbie Thompson-Brownto score.

Two minutes later the home side suffered a second blow as they were reduced to 10 men with Simon Richmen seeing red for a two-footed lunge on Jamey Osborne.

This seemingly didn't affect them too much as in the 14th minute they were level when James Walshaw delightfully headed home.

The game was now very much end-to-end as both teams showed their attacking qualities.

It was from one of these ventures forward that Hednesford regained the lead in the 25th minute.

Michael Lennon was felled just outside the 18-yard-box and as the Altrincham goalkeeper and wall were lining up, Elliott Durrell took a quick freekick which beat goalkeeper Stuart Coburn and found the bottom corner of the net.

Back came the home side and an almighty scramble inside the six-yard-box saw Town manage to clear the ball from the goal line.

Into the second period and there were appeals for a penalty from the home side in the 51st minute as substitute Kyle Perry went down in the box, however they were waved away.

Apart from this though, the visitors were rarely troubled again by the home side as the second half wore on and they pressed forward in search of a third goal to seal all three points.

With just 17 minutes left Neil Harvey had a great chance to do so, but he dragged his effort wide when through on goal. Just three minutes later Francino Francis saw an effort ruled out for an infringement.

Hednesford's dominance was rewarded in the 83rd minute when an excellent ball through the middle was brought down by Durrell and he sublimely finished to seal all three points.

Francino Francis chests the ball home but his effort was disallowed during the match against Altrincham

Despair as The Hayes fail to sink Boatmen

Heath Hayes 1 Dunkirk 4

DESPITE having the lion's share of the play Hayes slumped to another crucial Midland Alliance defeat to fellow strugglers Dunkirk.

It was a day that nothing went right for the home side especially leading scorer Dave Waple who had a nightmare of a game missing a host of chances.

From their first attack Adam Langley made a fine run down the left and produced an excellent cross but Waple headed wide.

The Boatmen took the lead on 12 minutes when a long punt upfield from keeper Jake Want landed at the feet of their new signing Zico Grinion looking yards offside whose first time effort found the net from 20 yards.

Hayes thought that they had equalised when Dan Scragg fired home through a ruck of players only to be denied by the linesman's flag. On 20 minutes the home side went further behind when Grinion took advantage of some sloppy marking to score.

Hayes suffered a further blow when Ricardo Read broke away to put his team three up at the break.

Waple found the target on 68 minutes with a fine volley from 12 yards. Deep into injury time Dunkirk's Richard Dean scored.

Two late strikes put side through

League Cup Round 2.
Walsall Wood 4
Heath Hayes 1

HEATH Hayes made Wood fight for their place in the last eight of the League Cup but two late goals from Dave Carns made the game safe.

Hayes started strongly but it was Wood who made the initial breakthrough after just two minutes when Shawn Boothe forced the ball home.

The visitors won a corner on 11 minutes, the ball was delivered to the far post and Jack Arrowsmith rocketed a header home to equalise.

This only lasted four minutes when Ahmet Bilgimer shot a penalty past the diving Jenkins.

On 76 minutes with an incisive Wood move down the left that saw almost the whole team involved, Bilgimer raced into the box. Alex Imefreys got in a desperate last-ditch challenge but substitute Danny Carns pounced on the loose ball and scored.

On 85 minutes Taylor Boyce left players trailing in his wake as he came in from the left, Phillips again saving the visitors with another great tackle.

Right on 90 minutes Smith won the ball in the centre, ran on before feeding Bilgimer who raced into the box. He unselfishly played the ball inside to Carns who gave Jenkins no chance.

Wood now face Tipton.

Home form is fine – Butler

SADDLERS skipper Andy Butler has rejected the notion indifferent home form is playing on the minds of Walsall's players.

The Saddlers have won just two of seven home games so far and have suffered defeats to Preston, Bradford and against Coventry last-time out.

But ahead of Saturday's FA Cup first-round showdown with Shrewsbury Town at the Banks's, Butler claimed they have just been unlucky and insisted he and his team-mates relish playing at home.

"I think it is just the way games have gone at home," he said. "When we are away from home teams come and attack us and we have players who can go and attack them on the break.

"We look forward to playing at home. We will turn it around, we did last year and we will do again."

Dominant side bring Clee Hill down to earth

Cannock 34 Clee Hill 13

Rugby

CANNOCK welcomed Clee Hill at the weekend, a team who had won six out of six in the league and only conceded 20 points in the process.

The home side were looking to come out of a stuttering start to the season. The first half didn't really go to plan. Cannock lacked any real fizz and despite having the majority of possession, failed to capitalise.

Too many final passes went begging and Cannock were to pay for their errors. Clee made two visits to the home side's 22 and both times came away with points. A penalty from a high tackle and then their handy outside centre ran though far too many tackles to set up his scrum half. Scott Pedley did score from the tee to start the scoreboard ticking.

In the second half better protection at the rucks allowed Luke Jordan to feed his strike runners. A great line from Stephen Frost took Cannock into dangerous territory and with some slick hands through the backs, the prolific Josh Humphreys scored in the corner and Cannock took the lead. Cannock carried on building pressure. Scrums and lineouts were becoming dominant so when prop Scott Lathe was binned for giving his opposite number a lesson in the dark arts, the side were perplexed.

Darren Baugh and Sonny Stanaway both made yards too and with clean ball to work with, Jordan again fed the backs and again Humphreys scored.

Cannock were now rampant and back up to full quota. Skipper Jon Freeman, as he did all game, brilliantly turned over possession. The ball found Lathe who gained yards, followed by Matt Madsen who did the same. Hands in the ruck gave the Lions a penalty. Jordan tapped quick and went under the sticks. The next try came from Stephen Frost through a storming break. S Stanaway paved way for Stewart MacDougall who gassed it towards the line. A great cover tackle looked to have stopped the attack but the most exquisite offload to Frost gave Cannock the bonus point and certain victory.

A kick found Pincombe. The fullback drew the last man and fed Macdougall. The flyer was left one on one with a prop and the 5th try was scored.

Converted by his brother Craig MacDougall. Clee did manage to claw one try back.

PITMEN CARRY ON WITH PERFECT RUN

Hednesford Town 2 Colwyn Bay 1

HEDNESFORD Town continued their perfect start to the season at Keys Park as Rob Smith's side recorded their sixth straight home victory to move four points clear of the chasing pack at the summit of The Skrill North.

Football

The Pitmen coasted into a 2-0 first half lead as their opponents from North Wales struggled to deal with a fluid midfield and lively front two of Michael Lennon and Neil Harvey.

Francino Francis did well to block a Jamie Crowther shot at point blank range on six minutes before towering above the Colwyn Bay defence to head the opening goal on nine minutes.

Brilliantly

Lennon's looping header was saved well before Harvey headed on to the striker who brilliantly played in the advancing Jamey Osborne to calmly dink the ball left-footed over Chris Sanna for the second goal on 35 minutes.

Marc Williams hit a looping volley on to the top of the cross bar just before the break and although Elliott Durrell and Harvey both had chances to put the game to bed Williams capitalised on hesitant defending by Alex Melbourne to half the arrears on 68 minutes.

The away side came back into the game strongly as Hednesford's minds possibly looked towards Saturday's FA Cup tie and Colwyn Bay were unlucky not to equalise in the final 15 minutes.

Williams weakly headed at Crane when well-placed, Hednesford hacked the ball clear of the line from a late corner and Williams hit the cross bar with a close range header.

Harvey and Durrell both had further opportunities to finish the visitors off on the counter but The Pitmen held firm to strengthen their position as early season pace setters.

Hednesford Town: Crane, Disney, Melbourne, McCone, Francis (c) (9), Taylor, Osborne (34), Durrell, Harvey, Lennon (Anagho-Ntamark 80), Thompson-Brown (Thorley 66),

Scholars blaze a trail back to winning ways

Nick Wellecomme tries a header for Chasetown as they faced Bedworth at home on Bonfire Night

Chasetown 2 Bedworth Utd 1

IT WAS a bonfire night to remember, as Chasetown returned to winning ways.

Despite Bedworth's lowly Evo-Stik Northern Premier position, this Greenbacks XI under new boss Nick Hawkins are a very different proposition compared with the side Chasetown faced earlier this season.

The visitors started brightly, with three ex-Scholars including Mark Branch and Ben Steane in their line-up. The other, Gavin Hurren, was involved in the game's first noteworthy incident when he made a late challenge on Ramone Stephens.

Hurren picked up both the first yellow card of the match and an injury which saw him sit it out on the substitutes' bench.

Bedworth took the lead in the 23rd minute when Reuben Wiggins-Thomas netted beneath the crossbar with the home side appealing for a foul on goalkeeper Ryan Price.

Craig Harris' men levelled quickly. Just after the half-hour, a corner from debutant Dean Bennett was guided beyond Sheridan Martinez by the head of Nick Wellecomme at the near post.

The Scholars nearly went ahead four minutes later when Paul Sullivan nipped beyond two defenders and guided the ball beyond the advancing keeper only for substitute Greg Webb to clear off the line.

Martinez made fine saves from Sullivan and Wellecomme (twice) as Chasetown pressed. But he could do nothing when Sullivan jinked past two defenders and thumped home a right-foot shot from outside the area.

Chasetown: Price, Farmer, Keenan, Slater, Tesfa Robinson, Halsall, Stephens, Bennett, Wellecomme (Bannister 83), Sullivan (Theo Robinson 89), Beckett (Butler 69). Subs not used: Tyrone Williams, Watson.

Bedworth United: Martinez, Newton, Branch, Hurren (Webb 15), Craven, Whyman (Edmonds 73), Steane, Forde, Grandison, Wiggins-Thomas, Munn (Whitman 61). Subs not used: Hutchcox, Peel.

Squad is ready for cup clash

HEDNESFORD Town are getting ready to host their first FA Cup First Round tie at Keys Park for 13 years as League One Crawley Town wait in the wings for Rob Smith's table topping team.

Oldham Athletic were the last side The Pitmen faced at this stage of the FA Cup at home, when Hednesford lost 4-2 in 2000 and manager Smith says the players can now look forward to facing The Red Devils from West Sussex knowing any result other than a defeat would be a great achievement.

"We will all be really excited on Saturday. The team have no expectations on them at all. We are just going to enjoy the day; it makes a nice change to be pressure free.

"We have to accept there will be long spells when we do not have the ball, but if we remain organised and work hard we will get chances of our own."

"The club is on a real high at the moment and we must all make the most of it and show to the football world what a good set-up we have at Keys Park."

An attendance of at least 2,000 is hoped for. Entry is £12 terraces or stand for adults, £7 concessions and £3 for under-16s with adult.

Delph's dream of England role

FABIAN DELPH says it would be a 'dream' to gatecrash England's World Cup squad.

The Villa midfielder has been tipped to earn a first senior call-up after impressive performances this term.

Delph, who has four under-21 caps, has been hailed by England aces Micah Richards and Joleon Lescott this season.
